Threaten Unilateral Action

Turk Demand Implies Warning of Invasion

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Archbishop Makarios, president of Cyprus, declared tonight Turkish intervention on Cyprus would mean war.

* * *

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Turkey issued an ultimatum to the Greek Cypriot government of Cyprus today, warning that it would take unilateral action unless a cease-fire was put in force throughout the island and all acts against the Turkish Cypriot community were stopped.

Would Act Under Treaty

The ultimatum, which carried the implied warning of a Turkish invasion of Cyprus, was contained in a note delivered today to the government of Greek Cypriot President Makarios by the Turkish Embassy in Nicosia.

The note had been given to the U.S., British and Greek ambassadors in Ankara, the Turkish capital, Thursday night.

Turkey said if its conditions were not met immediately, it would intervene under the 1960 treaty of guarantee which accompanied the independence of Cyprus from Britain.

The treaty empowers Britain, Greece or Turkey to intervene unilaterally to preserve the constitution of Cyprus. Makarios' desire to remove the constitution's veto powers for the Turkish Cypriot minority is at the root of the Cyprus crisis and the civil war between the island's two communities.

Reports that Turkish naval units had taken aboard troops and marines Thursday at Iskenderun, 100 miles north of Cyprus, brought a warning from Greek Foreign Minister Stavros Costopoulos that any unilateral intervention on Cyprus would bring "an immediate Greek reaction."

Burn LBJ in Effigy

In northwest Cyprus, hundreds of Greek Cypriot high school pupils in Morphou demonstrated against Britain and the United States and burned President Johnson in effigy.

Greek and Turkish Cypriot snipers exchanged half a dozen shots in a Nicosia suburb, but British truce forces intervened before anyone was hurt.

The threat of Greek and Turkish intervention came as U.N. Secretary-General U Thant appeared nearing success in his efforts to raise a 7,000-man international police force for Cyprus.

Canada Pledges 1,000

Thant today was only 2,500 troops short of his goal after Canada pledged 1,000 men to join the 3,500 troops Britain has promised to keep on the island as part of the international army.

Canadian Foreign Secretary Paul Martin flew from Ottawa to New York to give Thant personal assurance Canada would participate in the U.N. force and would also pay for transporting and maintaining Canadian troops.

Martin said French - Canadians of the Royal 22nd Regiment at Camp Valcartier, Que., would leave for Cyprus as soon as one more country joined the force and the Canadian Parliament approved Canada's participation.

Troop Logjam Broken

Other troop contributions were expected from Finland and Sweden.

With the troop logjam broken and financial contributions coming in, Thant advised the Security Council he was confident the international force could be established "in the very near future." The council unanimously authorized the force last week.

The United States announced

Marlboro Rejects New School Sites For Second Time

Three sites proposed for a new junior-senior high school in the Marlboro Central School District, were overwhelmingly rejected Thursday by voters of the district.

Board Meets Tonight

Members of the Board of Education will meet tonight in special session to discuss other potential sites for a new school, officials said. The defeat of the propositions yesterday was the second rejection of land site issues put before the qualified voters of the Marlboro district

A proposition calling for the purchase of the Colombo property site consisting of 24.9 acres adjacent to the present elementary school at a cost not exceeding $114,000 was defeated by a vote of 658-334.

Beaten in November

The proposition for the acquisition of the Conway property at the southerly end of the district at a cost not exceeding $140,000 was defeated by a vote of 718-212. Another proposition for the purchase of the Baggata property consisting of 30 acres north of the present high school lost by a vote of 805-105.

Last Nov. 13 a land site issue was rejected by a 2-1 vote.

Teachers to Meet Hoover on Raises Next Wednesday

Donald J. Sweeney, a teacher at the J. Watson Bailey Junior High School and chairman of the staff salary committee of the Kingston school system, said today a meeting has been arranged with Superintendent of Schools W. Wendell Hoover to discuss the salary schedule approved by the Board of Education.

Sweeney said it was decided at a committee meeting last night to confer with Dr. Hoover in regards to a meeting, and today the school superintendent and Sweeney arranged for a meeting Wednesday, March 18 at 3:30 p. m. at the George Washington School.

The committee also decided to arrange a meeting with Dr. Walter Crewson, an associate

Final Plans Ready For Member Drive By Area Chamber

Final plans for the annual membership drive of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce were approved at a postponed meeting of the board of directors last night.

Progress reports were also made by 10 of the 15 committees set up for 1964. Numerous projects and activities were proposed, many of which will be finalized at the next meeting. Each committee is very anxious to receive suggestions from all members, old and new, before the final program of activities is approved.

The membership drive will start with a breakfast meeting of all workers in the three divisions of the campaign Monday morning, March 16, at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Revival Doubted Of Pay Boost by Senate This Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a sudden seizure of election year jitters, the House has said "no thanks" to a $10,000-a-year pay raise.

Its surprising decision Thursday that at $22,500 Congress members are paid enough, killed a bill that would have boosted the salaries of 1.7 million government workers. The average mailman and government secretary stood to gain $450 annually.

Administration Support

Theoretically, the Senate can revive the pay boost drive later this session, and to make it more palatable, at more modest proportions. Veteran observers consider this unlikely.

The higher salary structure had the strong support of the House Democratic leadership and the Johnson administration. It was scaled to boost those in the top levels 22.5 per cent and those on the lower rungs 3 per cent on the theory that the government can retain top people only by making their pay competitive with private industry.

However, this is an election year, and while the voter may favor a $450 raise for his postman he may look askance at a $10,000 boost for his congressman. Besides, the administration has filled the air with talk of economy.

Still, Democratic and Republican leaders were certain that if the House members did not have to go on record the $545 million bill would be passed. As the day wore on, provisions

Says Ruby Has Rare Epilepsy

Specialist Talks For Defense Side

DALLAS (AP)—Dr. Frederic A. Gibbs, Chicago authority on epilepsy, testified today in Jack Ruby's murder trial that Ruby has "a very rare type of epilepsy."

Gibbs told the jury that he came to Dallas voluntarily to testify in the trial of Ruby for the slaying of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused presidential assassin.

Gibbs replied to a question by chief defense counsel Melvin Belli when asked what the specialist found in Ruby's electroencephalograms:

"I detected that he has a particular, very rare type of epilepsy which does not manifest itself in seizures but in other ways."

Others Disagree

A number of psychiatric and medical witnesses who have testified for the prosecution said they flatly disagree with Gibbs' interpretations of Ruby's encephalograms—brain wave tests.

Gibbs' name and a letter he wrote concerning his opinion of Ruby's condition have been fiercely fought points of contention throughout Ruby's trial. Belli made numerous attempts to get Gibbs' findings before the jury, and Dist. Atty. Henry M. Wade struggled to keep them out.

Gibbs was the 66th witness in the trial, nearing the end of its fourth week. The state rested its case late Thursday and Judge Joe B. Brown had expected that would end the testimony.

Defense Wins Point

However, defense lawyers, after a battle, won permission from Judge Brown to delay the end of testimony until today so Gibbs could reach Dallas and testify.

After Gibbs finished, the defense rested. The state finished its case Thursday.

Judge Brown recessed the hearing until 1 p.m. (CST) at which time he said he would be ready to read the charge to the jury.

Ruby faces the electric chair for killing Lee Harvey Oswald Nov. 24. Oswald was the accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

Ruby's lawyers contend he suffers from psychomotor epilepsy, and was legally insane when he killed Oswald.

FBI Holds Two For Attempt to Blow Up Train

FORT PIERCE, Fla. (AP)—FBI agents arrested two former Florida East Coast Railway employes early today on charges they attempted to blow up an FEC train with 50 pounds of dynamite Thursday night.

The two were identified by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover as John Wesley Davis, 28, who lives near here, and Joseph Leo Vedder, 32, of Miami.

Dynamite on Rails

Hoover said 15 sticks of dynamite were found wired to the rails at the north end of an FEC bridge in Indian River County, north of here.

The explosives were wired so they would detonate when a train's wheels passsed over the tracks, the FBI said.

Saboteurs have blown five freight trains off FEC tracks this year, two late last month a few miles from Palatka where President Johnson was making a speech on a Florida tour.

The incident prompted the President to call on the FBI and Labor Department to do all possible to solve the sabotage and settle a 13½-month-old strike by 11 nonoperating unions.

The FBI dispatched a 30-man team to work on the bombings.

Hoover said Vedder, who was armed with a .38 caliber pistol, was arrested in a car near where Davis was apprehended. No further details were released.

The two men were given an immediate hearing before U.S. Commissioner James E. Alderman at Fort Pierce. Bond was set at $75,000 each.

Both Railroaders

Vedder and Davis were charged with placing an explosive on the railway bridge in an attempt to damage a train.

The FBI said Vedder, an FEC switchman for five years, was divorced and the father of five children. He is a native of Duluth, Minn.

Agents said Davis, an FEC employe for seven years, was married and has four children. He is a native of St. Lucie County, Fla.

The nonoperating unions walked off the job after a deadlock over negotiations for a 10.28 cent an hour raise granted other railroads in nationwide bargaining.

Kingston, Three Other Places for Airport Service

Three other Hudson Valley communities, along with Kingston, are interested in bus service to and from New York City airports, Mayor John J. Schwenk revealed today.

The mayor was one of many persons who spoke in favor of the proposal at a hearing conducted Thursday at 199 Church Street, New York, by the Public Service Commission.

It was held on petition of Statewide Airport Transit Inc., which seeks to establish the service between Kingston, Newburgh, Suffern and Spring Valley and John F. Kennedy Inter-

McNamara Says Path To Viet Victory Hard

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara returned from South Viet Nam today to give President Johnson a first-hand report on how the war is going against Communist guerrillas there.

Officials Confident

McNamara told reporters at Andrews Air Force Base that during his swing through the war-torn country "I did not meet a single responsible official who doesn't believe that if a proper effort is made" victory can be obtained.

He added, though, that "the path to victory may be hard."

The defense chief, with Gen. Maxwell E. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, standing at his side, said the President had sent them to South Viet Nam for two purposes:

Two-Fold Purposes

To appraise the political, economic and military situation.

To determine what "additional actions if any" the United States should take in the struggle against Communist - dominated Viet Cong.

The secretary reportedly concluded during his five-day visit—his fourth to the embattled Southeast Asian country—that the massive U.S. aid may have to be stepped up if the war is to be won.

Against Extension

But dispatches from Saigon also said McNamara has vetoed suggestions that the battle be expanded into North Viet Nam.

Johnson sent McNamara and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, to South Viet Nam last week to make a new assessment of the battle against the Viet Cong. They were joined there by John A. McCone, director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Ice Cream, Candy Firm Sells After 72 Years in City

Sale of the Terpening Ice Cream & Candy Co., 142 Abeel Street, in operation here 72 years, was completed Thursday, Kenneth J. Roos, of 167 West Chestnut Street, who managed it for 40 years, announced today.

New owner of the ice cream business is the Highland Ice Cream Corp., 326 Robinson Avenue, Newburgh. The candy jobbing business was bought by Remus Wholesale, 55 Furnace Street, Kingston.

Started in 1892

Started in 1892 by Alonzo Terpening in a Ferry Street building east of Broadway, the business was moved to the Abeel Street location in 1922. It served retailers in a radius of about 30 miles from the city in Ulster and Dutchess County communities, along with those in the city.

Ice cream was manufactured at the local plant for many years. The new owner will produce it at

Pediatrician Will Explain Pressure on Homes, Schools

The Effects of the High Pressure Age Upon the Home, the School and the Child will be explained by one of the state's leading pediatricians at the March meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of George Washington School.

Dr. Paul R. Patterson, professor and chairman of the department of pediatrics of Albany Medical College and pediatrician-in-chief of the Albany Medical Center will be guest speaker at the meeting Wednesday 8 p. m. in the school auditorium.

Due to the interest in both the speaker and the topic, members of other P-TAs in the consolidated school district are invited to attend according to Dr. Fred Holcomb Jr., George Washington School P-TA president.

Dr. Patterson served for three years as state health chairman of the New York State Congress of Parents and Teachers and is associated with many national and state committees pertaining to the health of children.

Presently, he is the medical director of a research study center of learning disabilities in children. Much of his recent writing and interest has been concerned with cooperation and the role of parents and teachers in the emotional and educational guidance of children.

$64,461 Is Voted for Span Work

New Commission Has Five Members

Five major decisions were made Thursday night by Ulster County Board of Supervisors in its action on a long agenda completed at 12:10 this morning.

1. The county office building was named officially.
2. A five-member Airport Commission was appointed.
3. A deed was accepted to another portion of the donated property for the Ulster County Community College site.
4. A contract for $64,461 was awarded for work on the Leggs Mills Road Bridge at Lake Katrine.
5. The board went on record opposing an open season for the hunting of antlerless deer.

Vote was 23 to 8

The new Ulster County office building, now under construction on Main and Fair Streets, by a vote of 23 to 8, has been officially designated as "Ulster County Office Building." This action was taken Thursday night after previous Democratic sponsored resolutions, calling for the naming of the building, the "John F. Kennedy Building," had been defeated.

First Ward Supervisor James A. Rapp, Republican majority leader, offered the resolution.

Supervisor James J. Carroll (D) 10th Ward, had previously offered resolutions calling for the naming of the building as a memorial to the late president. They were defeated by the Republican members. Voting against the Rapp resolution Thursday night were Democratic Supervisors Irving Bell, Sixth Ward; Carroll; Donald E. Gregory, 13th Ward; John J. Lucci, Fifth Ward; George Majestic, Gardiner; Gerald B. Prosser, Ninth Ward; Joseph B. Scully, Fourth Ward, and Daniel Smith, Seventh Ward.

Five on Committee

Five members were named to the Ulster County Airport Commission on motion of Supervisor Clarence C. Raichle (R), 12th Ward, chairman of the Industrial Development Committee.

Named to the commission was Henry M. Cameron of West Park, a former Town of Esopus supervisor for the one year term; Raymond Cruthers of West Shokan and Raymond Coles of Flower Hill, for two-year terms; Arthur F. Mulligan of Rosendale and William M. Kobelt of Wallkill, for the three year term. Future appointments will be for a three-year term.

A bid of $64,461 by the Anthony Costanzi Corp., of Kingston for strengthening the Leggs Mills Road Bridge at Lake Katrine was accepted and the contract awarded. Standard Engineering Company of Albany bid $64,962.

Savago Named

Peter Savago (R), New Paltz was named as the board of supervisor's representative on the Ulster County Board of Health for a two-year term to expire December 31, 1965. The vote on the resolution was 15 to 13 with the Democrats voting in opposition.

On resolution of Supervisor Abrah E. Molyneaux (R), Woodstock, a deed dated February 10, 1964, for a 15 acre tract of land, a portion of the Community College site at Stone Ridge was accepted from Frances Leggett.

A resolution by Supervisor

Spray Spruce Now For Gall Aphids

SYRACUSE — Now's the time to spray your spruce trees.

So warns Dr. Howard C. Miller, extension entomologist and pathologist, State University College of Forestry at Syracuse University.

Leaflet Available

Extension Division, State University College of Forestry at Syracuse University, Syracuse, N. Y. 13210.

"It's best to spray in late March or early April, when the weather usually begins to get warm. It's important that this be done before the buds begin to open," Dr. Miller advises.

Caused by plant lice, spruce galls destroy the beauty and slowly sap the vitality of common, ornamental spruces. Galls will curl, stunt and kill new growth. According to Dr. Miller, continued infestation will make spruce trees more susceptible to attacks by other insects and plant diseases.

Newly-hatched aphids, feeding at the base of spruce needles, produce the galls. This feeding enlarges plant tissue which then envelopes the developing insects as the gall is formed. Spraying is useless, once they are inside of the galls.

What to Do

Here are two dormant spray formulas Dr. Miller recommends: One includes lime sulphur, with one part to nine parts of water. The other is made of one gallon of miscible oil to 25 gallons of water.

These sprays — especially the oil mixture — may destroy, temporarily, the bloom or waxy coating on the needles, but the original color will return within a short time.

"Do not use lime sulphur near painted surfaces! They become discolored when in contact with the chemical," cautions Dr. Miller.

The "Spruce Gall Aphids" pamphlet is the first in a series of publications the State University College of Forestry at Syracuse University is distributing to the public this spring. Colorfully illustrated throughout the leaflets are designed to provide the public with authoritative, current information on tree insects, fungi and plant diseases.

The entire series is an integral part of the over-all, year-around public information and education program of the State University College of Forestry at Syracuse University.

City Library Has Books Geared to Presidential Year

As part of a special selection of books for election year reading, Kingston Library has purchased the following titles.

In the Lyndon Johnson Story, Booth Mooney has carried the career of the 36th president to the fateful events which brought him to his high office. This is the account of Johnson's life, a statement of his political philosophy and some statements about his ability. Since LBJ will doubtless be the Democratic candidate for the presidency, his biography is important election year reading.

The career of another presidential hopeful, Nelson Rockefeller has been recorded by James Desmond. This political biography sheds light on both the public servant and the man. His record as governor is chronicled and observations are made as to his chances for the presidency.

A discussion of national and world politics is found in The Politics of Hysteria by Edmund Stillman and William Pfaff. The disorders of society are interpreted in the light of world political heritage.

During this election year, other important titles will be added to the political bookshelf at the library.

Two books of special interest to this area have been received by the library.

Adirondack Profiles by William Wessels is a history of people and places important to the Adirondack area.

Old New England Churches by Elise Lathrop is a beautiful book. It includes illustrations of churches in New England by state and gives a short history of each church.

Child Health Conference

A child health conference, conducted by the Ulster County Health Department, will be held at the Tumor Clinic Building, 400 Broadway, Wednesday, March 18 from 10 to 10:30 a. m. These clinics are limited to infant and pre-school children for the purpose of improving child health through early recognition of defects, advice regarding nutrition, instruction of parents in understanding of growth and development, handling of minor behavior difficulties and the administering of immunizations for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough and polio.

Court Will Study Tony Pro Appeal On Conviction

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The U.S. Third Circuit Court of Appeals has taken under advisement an appeal by Teamster leader Anthony Provenzano from a federal conviction of extortion.

Richard A. Levin, assistant U. S. attorney, said the court would probably take six to eight weeks before handing down its opinion.

The court heard arguments in the case Thursday.

Provenzano, 46, was convicted by a federal court jury in Newark, N.J., last June 11 on charges of extorting $17,100 from Walter A. Dorn, president of Dorn Transportation, Inc. of Rensselaer, N.Y.

Provenzano was sentenced to seven years in prison and fined $10,000. He is free in $15,000 bail pending the outcome of his appeal.

Provenzano is president of the New Jersey Council of Teamsters and Teamsters Local 560 of Hoboken, N.J., one of the largest locals in the country.

THIS OWNER LOVES IT!

The three pictures above illustrate one reason for their enthusiasm. The top car is a 1963 model . . . the center car is a 1962 Cadillac . . . and the lower car is four years old. The styling through the years has evolved and refined, but each is unmistakably a Cadillac.

These owners share a common knowledge. Not even most new motor cars offer the degree of pleasure and reliability that come with a previously owned Cadillac.

First, there is Cadillac's renowned craftsmanship, which results in a car of unusual endurance.

Next, consider value. The equipment on a Cadillac of older vintage is still extra cost on most new cars . . . and includes such features as Hydra-Matic, power steering, power brakes, power windows on most models . . . plus many Cadillac engineering advancements that still have not found their way into other new 1964 cars.

And don't overlook Cadillac's reputation for operating economy—comparable to many smaller cars.

So when you make your next motor car investment, new or used, consider only one name—Cadillac.

Don't Wait Says Army Recruiter To Draft Age Men

It is evident to many young men in the Kingston area that the recennt executive order exempting married men from the draft has lowered the draft age from 23 to 21.

According to Army Recruiting Sergeant Edward Malenski, Central Post Office, many inquiries have been received from young men who received their notices to report for induction much sooner than they had anticipated. They wanted to know how they could enlist rather than be inducted — thus ensuring themselves the training or assignment of their choice.

"One of the really bad parts of my job," Sgt. Malenski said, "is telling these men that I can't do a thing to help them. It's too late!"

He explained that once a man receives his induction notice he is no longer eligible to enlist in any service. "I've known of many cases," he said, "in recent months especially, where a young man checks on the training he is eligible for under the Army's 'Guaranteed Assignment' program, and then decides to wait for a month or two. Unfortunately, the mailman doesn't wait: his draft notice arrives. And he enters the service without any say about his future."

Sgt. Malenski pointed out that he continually encourages applicants to determine their qualifications, reserve an assignment of their choice, and schedule their enlistments well in advance of their probable induction call.

All young men who desire a choice assignment, especially those between the ages of 20 and 22, are urged to contact Sgt. Malenski.

Injuries Fatal

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Three-year-old Wayne Weller was injured fatally Thursday when the automobile in which he was riding and a truck collided at the intersection of routes 31 and 57, north of Syracuse. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Weller of Syracuse.

Vernon Castle, famous dancer, was killed in a plane accident in Texas, where he was instructing British pilots during World War I.

Kazan Disturbed By Reception for America America

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Elia Kazan's office is a paneled cave a few steps off and four flights up from Times Square.

You get the feeling that his roots are deep in the asphalt of Broadway. Indeed he has dedicated much of his future to the fortunes of Lincoln Center, a revolutionary attempt to establish a true repertory theater amid the commercialism of the New York stage.

Films Rate First

Yet he has insisted that his activities for Lincoln Center must not preclude his making of films.

"That is one of the things I made sure," he said. "Films are the most important thing in my life, especially now that I have started making movies about my family. If the stage interfered, I would give up the stage."

The reason for his resolution is the film trilogy he has undertaken. The first feature, "America America," tells of his uncle's struggles to emigrate from Turkey to the United States. The second will show his uncle 10 years later and the third at the end of his life.

Kazan was disturbed but not discouraged because business of "America America" has not been exceptional despite generally excellent reviews and four Academy nominations. It was named for best picture, best direction, writing by Kazan and art direction.

"I'm disappointed, and certainly Warner Brothers is," he said. "They have given it the best of treatment, but maybe it just isn't a picture for general release. Maybe, like some other of my pictures, it should get art-house treatment.

Title Seems Problem

"The title 'America America' seems to be a problem. It doesn't seem to convey anything to the public. I understand it will be changed abroad; in England they would think it was an American propaganda picture."

Kazan said he would go ahead with the writing of the next two films regardless of the first one's reception. He hasn't changed his plan — "though Warners may have second thoughts."

The director plans a rest before he embarks on any more work. He has directed two plays for Lincoln Center this season—the controversial "After the Fall" by Arthur Miller and S. N. Behrman's "But for Whom Charlie," which opened Thursday night. During this time he suffered the death of his wife.

Thinks Assassination Hurts Marksmanship

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army believes the assassination of President Kennedy has created an American revulsion to guns and that this attitude is hurting its civilian marksmanship program.

The Army offers no statistics to back up its belief, but, in a general way, it has testified to Congress that public sentiment is turning away from the gun.

The testimony was given last Jan. 29 and released today by the House Appropriations subcommittee on defense.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The turmoil of a national election year often sends currents swirling through the stock market temporarily. But the effect on the economy in general is usually far less than the political orators are wont to predict.

Businessmen will be paying more attention to any widening effects of the federal tax cut than to who is likely to be the Republican candidate for president, or to which party has the better chance of winning in November. And they will be paying even more attention to the underlying strengths of the economy apparent before the tax cut.

Usually Follows Trend

In most presidential election years in the past the economy has continued along the trend the business cycle already was taking, whether that was up or down. And any change in that trend during the campaign has been explained by economic causes rather than by political prospects.

In a few of the elections the incoming administration has meant a distinct break with past policies. But usually the economic forces themselves already were clear cut, and too strong to be moved much by the results of the votes.

And since World War II the government has become so large a force in the economy, and its general policies so set, that there has been increasingly less change in direction with any turnover in administration.

Talk Can Sway Market

Campaign talk, however, can sway a sensitive stock market at times. The market reacts quickly to rumors of war or peace, to talk of new political policies touted as bearing on business, in fact, to rumors of almost any kind.

This year the business cycle is still on the upside, even though the recovery from the low point of the last recession is now three years old, a ripe age for the average upswing.

The tax cut, as it boosts consumer buying and as it encourages businessmen to increase their expansion and modernization programs, is counted upon to keep the upswing going through the campaign period at least.

A world debacle, a sudden loss of confidence at home, might change this. There is at present no sign that either is in the making.

Will Have Preferences

That the course of the economy may be changed very little by the alarms and excursions of the political campaigns does not mean that businessmen won't have their preferences.

They doubtless will feel that one side will make the climate in Washington more salubrious for them than it would be under the other. Many businessmen will openly take sides this time, reversing their traditional caution about politic partisan involvement. But they are unlikely to change their company's plans in any way because of the fortunes of the campaign.

On the state and local levels the campaigns may be quite meaningful to business conditions there.

But if the recent past is a guide, the national party platforms will be fairly close in matters affecting the general economy. The present administration is unlikely to take any steps that would upset the business applecart. And the public is unlikely to change its spending, saving or investing plans because of any political oratory.

Even individuals with the most partisan views are likely to go on handling the family budget quite apart from them, and to assess economic prospects in much the same fashion as their neighbors.

AIRPLANE MISHAPS

As if there were not enough irony in the tragic mountaintop crashes of two airliners within scant feet of safety—one near Innesbruck, Austria, the other near Lake Tahoe, Calif., taking a total of 164 lives—two other recent airplane mishaps read like fictional happy endings.

In one of them, a B-52 bomber had 83 per cent of its 50-foot-high tail fin ripped away -while investigating low-level turbulence, yet, thanks to the skill of its civilian test pilot, was kept aloft for five hours and landed safely.

In the other, a chartered DC-3 was caught in turbulence while approaching Chicago's O'Hare International Airport and plunged into a home. Miraculously, there was only one fatality.

These last two instances give dramatic evidence of the surprising strength and safety of aircraft; the first two, of their utter vulnerability.

Aircraft designers hope to gain valuable information from the B-52 experience. We can only hope that something will be learned from the disasters in Austria and California. (The secrets of a third recent crash still lie beneath the waters of Louisiana's Lake Pontchartrain.)

Airplanes are here to stay and people will continue to fly, despite these tragedies. But the public has the right to rest secure in the belief that everything that can possibly be done to increase the safety of flying is being done.

There are charges that this is not the case.

The Airways Club, an organization founded in 1960 to represent the interests of air travelers, claims that a potentially dangerous situation exists in regard to jet fuel.

There are two types of fuel: JP-1, which is pure kerosene, and JP-4, a mixture of kerosene and aviation gasoline. The latter, says the club, is the more volatile and hazardous by every measure. All U.S. domestic airlines voluntarily use JP-1 exclusively in jets.

A price change of as little as a quarter of a cent a gallon in favor of JP-4, however, could change this practice. And in overseas travel, where price and availability are determining factors, JP-4 is the fuel of choice.

As a result of the crash near Elkton, Md., last December in which a jet was struck by lightning while carrying a mixture of JP-1 and JP-4 taken on in Puerto Rico, the Federal Aviation Agency has initiated a study comparing the two fuels.

The Airways Club urges an immediate ban on JP-4, pending the findings of the FAA. It quotes the opinion of British aviation expert J. W. Richard that the Elkton disaster could not have occurred with kerosene and that hundreds of survivors of other crashes owe their lives to the fact that kerosene is relatively slow to ignite.

The British airline, BOAC, uses JP-1 only, although it costs them $1.8 million more a year.

On the other hand, the DC-3 in the Chicago crash carried highly flammable aviation gasoline. There was no fire. Is it all a matter of luck or fate? Or what?

'POP BOTTLE' MILK

The value of a new approach in marketing an established product has been demonstrated once again in the Fargo-Moorhead area which spreads across the border between Minnesota and North Dakota. The new twist is simple: Milk in "pop bottles" is being sold alongside soft drinks in vending machines.

The early response has been tremendous. One creamery man said of it, "In more than 20 years, I've never seen such enthusiasm for anything the dairy industry has put before the public." It goes without saying that dairy interests in other parts of the country have a hopeful eye on this marketing experiment. For if milk in pop bottles were to catch on throughout the nation, that would undoubtedly bring a substantial boost in milk consumption

AN ALTERNATIVE TO "NEUTRALIZATION" IN S.E. ASIA

WASHINGTON—One of the alternative proposals for handling the shaky problem of South Vietnam involves the current refurbishing of a plan first sketched out in 1948 by General Albert Wedemeyer of World War II China fame. It is a plan that would neatly extricate the United States from front-line involvement in jungle warfare on the Asiatic mainland, yet, if it could be made practicable, it would have the virtue of intensifying and even extending the struggle against Communism in Southeast Asia. The plan is known to be in the brief case, or at least in the mind, of one important adviser to the White House and to Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara.

Briefly, the Wedemeyer blueprint, as of 1948, was to extend the idea of a Southeast Asia Treaty Organization, or SEATO, to include Japan, South Korea, and Formosa in an all-Asia anti-Communist front. The widened regional organization, a sort of Asiatic United Nations, would be charged with keeping the peace of its own hemisphere as U Thant is now charged with preventing Communists or Arab nationalists from taking over such bits of "western" real estate as Cyprus or Israel. The preservation of freedom in South Vietnam would naturally be first on the agenda of any broadened SEATO that could be set up under a new dispensation.

In 1948, when the Wedemeyer proposal was originally thrown into the hopper for discussion, there were reasons for arguing against it. It was difficult at that time to visualize any anti-Communist cooperation between Chiang Kai-shek and the Japanese, for the pre-1945 animosities had had little time to die down. As for enlisting the cooperation of the South Koreans in a broad anti-Communist Asiatic front in those days, that posed the difficult problem of getting significant aid from a little nation that was having all it could do to keep alive in the shadow of the Soviet colossus to the North.

In 1964, however, Japan is an acceptably democratic nation, Chiang Kai-shek's Formosa is strong and healthy, and the South Koreans are not quite as beleaguered as they used to be.. Certainly these three nations could combine to put some fighting anti-Communist "police" divisions into South Vietnam.

As General Wedemeyer once saw it, and doubtless still sees it now, it would be a mistake for the United States to undertake the active leadership of South Vietnamese troops in any extension of the war to the Communists' "privileged sanctuary" in Laos and North Vietnam. The spectacle of white men ordering Asians to kill other Asians in active battle could have unfortunate political repercussions. But if the Japanese, the South Koreans and the Formosa Chinese were to support and lead Vietnamese anti-Communists in a war to disrupt the Communist supply lines that run from North Vietnam southward through Laos to the Mekong delta, the Communist allegations of "white imperialism" would lose most of their force.

The Wedemeyer proposal might meet with "neutralist" objections that the presence of Formosan Chinese in South Vietnam would stir Red China to increased activity on behalf of the North Vietnam Red regime. But the presence of a strong Formosa on Red China's flank well to the north of Vietnam itself would, so the proponents of the Wedemeyer strategy say, serve to keep most of Mao Tse-tung's army and air force tied up to protect the Red Chinese mainland from possible invasions in more-than-guerilla strength.

While the old Wedemeyer idea is being mentioned again in Washington, it has also been suggested to the Nationalist Chinese Ambassador to the UN. And, with the suggestion, there has gone some practical advice that Formosa's civilian air fleet would be quite sufficient to ferry a division or two of Chiang's best soldiers to Saigon.

Whether anything will come of the proposal to revive the Wedemeyer strategy is, of course, questionable. But, assuming that we really intend to see the South Vietnamese through, the plan is worth a thorough canvassing. It is at least more promising than the naive notion, sponsored by de Gaulle, that a neutralized Southeast Asia could be guaranteed against Communism by a concert of powers made up of a disheartened West, a pacifist India, and the two Red bully-boy empires of Khrushchev and Mao Tse-tung.

The Doctor's Mailbag

Migraines Could Begin With Visual Disturbance

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—What would cause me to see what looks like a jagged-edge light flickering on one side? When this happens I get a terrific headache and an upset stomach. My mother has it too and she calls it the blind staggers.

A—You have given a good description of migraine which often runs in families. The attack usually starts with a visual disturbance or aura which may be followed by a one-sided headache and vomiting.

Q—My doctor has prescribed Sansert for my migraine headaches. This is the only medicine that has helped. Are there any harmful side effects?

A—Methysergide (Sansert) is, as you have found, the best preventive for migraine. If you take the recommended dose there should be no side effects or at most a little heartburn. This can be minimized by taking the drug at the beginning of a meal. The drug should not be taken during pregnancy.

Q—My daughter, 13, started to menstruate two months ago. Her first period continued for 21 days. Our doctor examined her a week later and everything was normal. Her second period was heavier and lasted nine days. How long can she continue like this? Can anything be done for her?

A—It is not unusual for the first few periods to be prolonged and to be associated with an excessive loss of blood. As the hormonal checks and balances become established, the condition may right itself. But, because other factors may be aggravating the abnormal periods, a thorough checkup should be made. This may include dilation and curettage of the uterus. Treatment, depending on existing conditions, may include giving thyroid substance, vitamin C, blood transfusions or estrogens.

Q—Can you tell me why I am nervous and irritable the week before and during my menstrual period? I am otherwise very calm.

A—You have what is called premenstrual tension. This condition is usually worse in the few days before a period and may be accompanied by headache, tender swelling of the breasts and nausea. Women who have this condition are not only hard to live with at that time, they are more accident-prone. The cause is a hormonal imbalance with retention of salt and water in the body.

Working on this knowledge, doctors give a combined treatment with benzydroflumethiazide or ethoxzolamide to produce diuresis and relieve waterlogging, progesterone to combat the hormonal imbalance, and ectylurea, a mild tranquilizer. On this treatment or a slight modification of it almost uniformly good results have been reported.

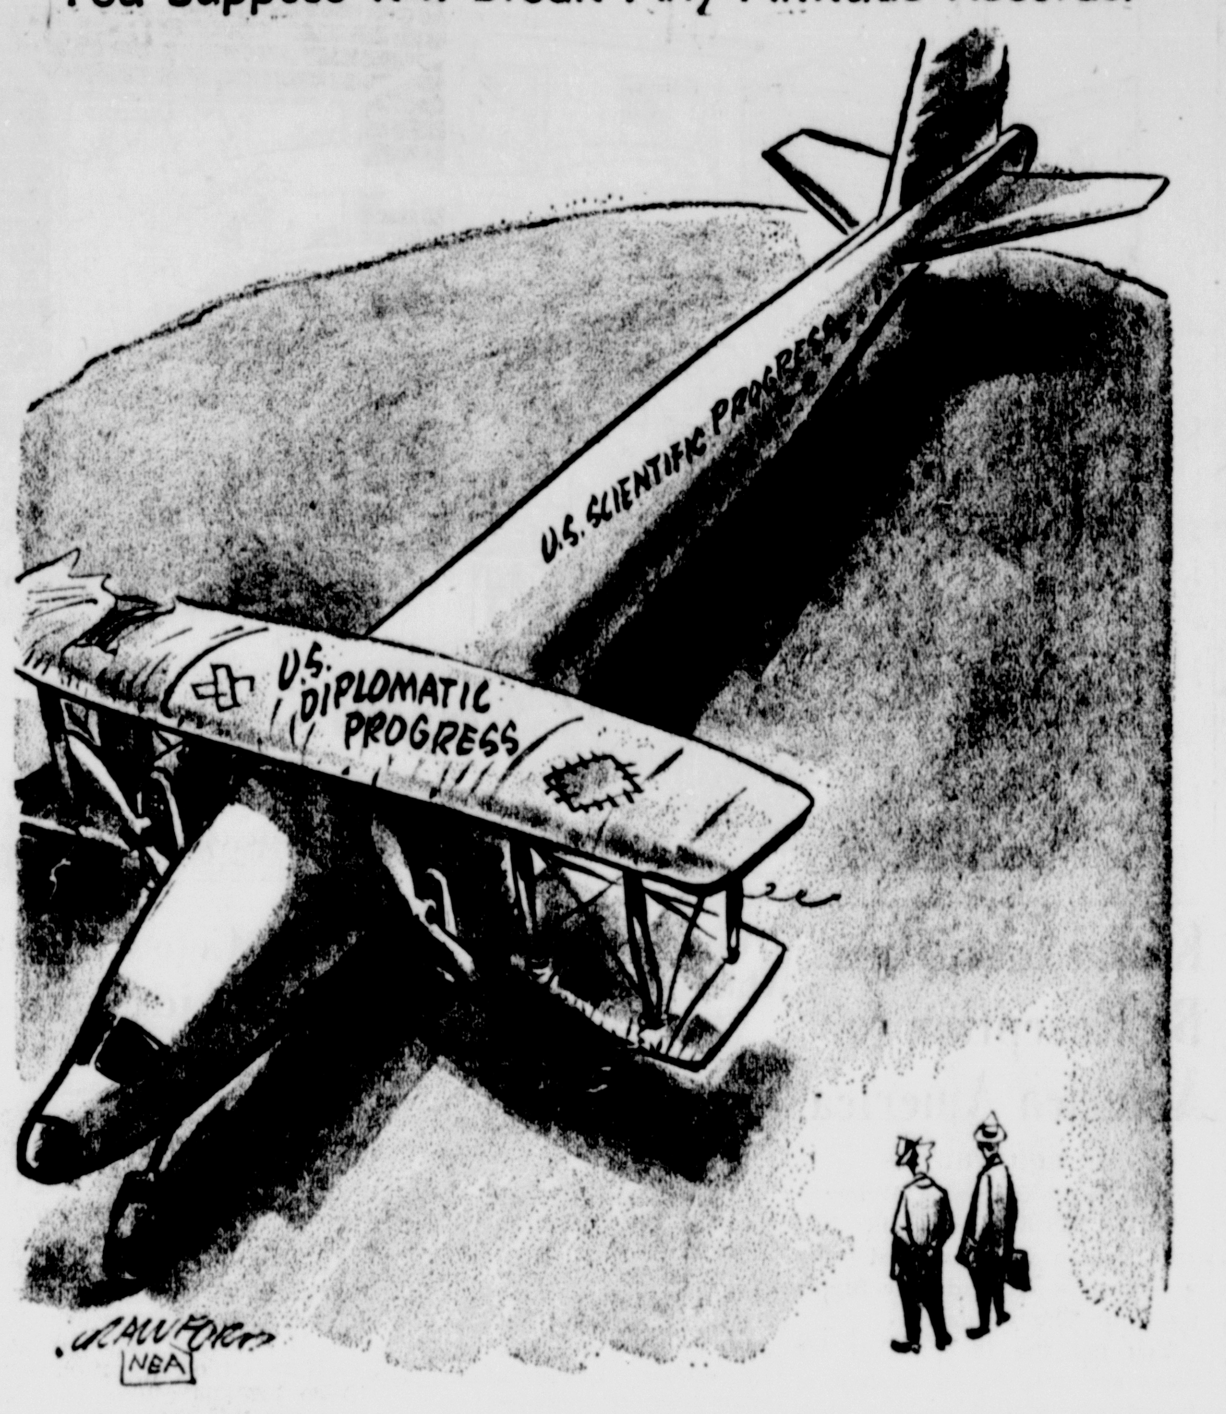
'You Suppose It'll Break Any Altitude Records?'



Washington News

BY BRUCE BIOSSAT
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — A major attempt is under way to array large elements of organized labor against the civil rights package pending in the Senate.

This effort has, in some measure, fallen on fertile ground. In consequence, the AFL-CIO, while continuing to support the legislation "without reservation and without delay," is nevertheless highly disturbed. Strong counter moves are being mounted.

What gives the drive against the bill among unions such potency is the fact it is led by Alabama's Sen. Lister Hill, a long-time friend of labor and the chairman of the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee.

Hill rose on the Senate floor on Jan. 15 to deliver a blast against the "equal employment opportunity" features of the legislation. In substance he charged the measures would undermine union seniority systems, affect so-called referral (hiring hall) practices, even endanger union representation rights assured under the National Labor Relations Act.

COPIES OF HILL'S SPEECH, plus a 19-page memorandum from which the speech was taken, have since been mailed out by the senator — with a covering letter on his committee stationery — to 30,000 "interested parties," mostly officers of local unions across the nation.

There are today some 70,000 locals, 57,000 of them affiliated with international unions linked to the AFL-CIO.

Results of this huge mailing have been more than a little distressing to the federation's leadership and somewhat pleasing to Hill.

The senator's aides say that while disapproving letters predominate in the mail response, a "surprising number" are favorable, with some union officers penning a heartfelt "amen."

A good many ask more information.

FOR ITS PART, the federation has suffered a sizable bombardment from local unions, internationals and the labor press, the puzzled inquiries asking how to answer Lister Hill, the proven friend of labor who voted against the two regulatory measures union leaders most dislike—the Tfta-Hartley and the Landrum-Griffin acts.

A substantial though uncounted number of local unions clearly have welcomed Hill's assault on the civil rights package as justifying and rationizing their already well-developed fears.

Particularly in certain of the building trades plagued by marked unemployment, the notion had taken root even before Hill's "round robin" mailing that opening these unions to Negroes would only perpetuate and exaggerate existing difficulties.

CONFRONTED WITH this very real stir, the AFL-CIO leaders have acted to prevent the cracks in their pro-civil rights stand from widening to destructive proportions.

In seeking to answer Hill, the federation could draw upon some "warm-up" practice. Just a month ago it circulated an answer to much similar arguments advanced by the chief lobbyist against the civil rights legislation, John Satterfield, Mississippi lawyer and former president of the American Bar Association.

Satterfield currently is secretary-treasurer of the Coordinating Committee for Fundamental American Freedoms, set up in Washington to combat the bills on all fronts.

Federation lawyers, having first framed a reply to Satterfield, prepared then a more detailed, more comprehensively legal argument designed to satisfy thousands of puzzled union men. But this counter-attack against the influential Hill has just begun.

Johnson Called Only Victor In New Hampshire Primary

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Maybe it was Lyndon Johnson who won the primary—for both parties—in New Hampshire. For whether Republicans like it or not, their various candidates who did go out on the stump and express themselves failed to make a case against the Johnson Administration. As for the man who got the biggest number of votes—Henry Cabot Lodge—he didn't say a word against the incumbent regime in Washington or participate in the campaign at all.

Just what do the voters in New Hampshire, therefore, think about national problems? There isn't any way to determine it by examining the results of the ballot. They may like one candidate's looks better than another's. Or, as the saying goes, "absence makes the heart grow fonder," and Ambassador Lodge could derive considerable support on that score, as he sojourns in Viet Nam.

The weakness in the Republican strategy was all too clearly apparent in the New Hampshire primary. The mission of a party out of power is to tell the people what's wrong with the party in power. The average voter doesn't get much satisfaction out of a campaign in which the ambition of one man to win the nomination is merely publicised over that of another. Certainly for a candidate just to demonstrate that he is aspiring to high office isn't going to excite citizens, especially if they don't know much about his qualifications in the first place.

Actually, Barry Goldwater, Nelson Rockefeller, Margaret Chase Smith, and Harold Stassen — whose names were printed on the ballot — aren't well known to the New Hampshire voters, whereas Henry Cabot Lodge, coming as he does from New England, has made an impression in that part of the country for a long time. As a matter of fact, Mr. Lodge was probably the best known of all the candidates to the New Hampshire voters, with the possible exception of Vice-President Nixon, whose name also wasn't on the ballot.

But there is something more deep-rooted in the New Hampshire verdict. It is the fundamental fact that in a national campaign people are often not as much interested in personalities as they are in issues. Is the economic condition of the country well balanced? Is prosperity ahead Is there going to be a war, and is the young man in the family going to be drafted? There may be only a superficial interest in such places as Viet Nam and Cyprus, but there's a deep interest in whether the United States is going to become involved in a war or whether it is going to maintain the peace.

For this season, many speeches made by the candidates who did campaign in New Hampshire were wide of the mark. They didn't concentrate on the basic faults of the Democratic Administration, nor did they analyze its policies in relation to the future impact of those policies on the citizens.

Economic conditions are fundamental with the voters. In times of discontent, the people blame the administration in power and vote against it at the next election. None of the Republican campaigners, including those who made speeches for Ambassador Lodge, hammered home effectively the defects in the Democratic Administration in relation to the welfare of the citizen, particularly his economic future.

In times when there is less likelihood of war and when business conditions are good and unemployment is not too large, the voter tends to go along with the party in office. It takes a good deal of sharp argument and definition to arouse the voters and to make them feel that they ought, by their votes, to register a protest.

Little of this was evident in the New Hampshire campaign. All the speeches of the candidates put together added up merely to a competition with each other and a hodgepodge of criticisms which did not focus on any particular issue or on subjects which the average voter could take to heart.

The New Hampshire primary is a conspicuous example of how difficult it is in America for a disunited political party to give to the voters an image of responsibility. The party leaders are in Washington, and most of them in Congress are fighting day by day on important pieces of legislation, but there is no attempt to organize a party position or anything that even resembles a platform until convention time actually comes.

Meanwhile, President Johnson has the benefit of day-by-day publicity, with numerous opportunities over radio and TV and through the press to expound his views on public questions. The party out of power always suffers because of this advantage held by the incumbent administration. This makes it even more important for the principles of a party platform to be proclaimed early and for the candidates at least to try to get together on what are the basic issues. Then the contest could properly concentrate on what are the qualifications of the individual aspirants for the nomination to carry out the policies that have become party doctrine.

There were 95,000 votes cast in this week's Republican primary, as compared with 157,000 Republican votes in the 1960 Presidential election. Since the Republican vote was split into several different groups, and no candidate got anywhere near a majority, it reflects the lack of agreement and the discord within the Republican party itself.

Under such circumstances, the party in power always benefits, and that's why Lyndon Johnson probably got more passive assent in the election last Tuesday than appeared in the votes he received on the Democratic ballot.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

There is a little radio on this desk. A woman with a gravely voice is talking about her husband. Both are old; both are asking the world if they should consider themselves "finished." The husband speaks. "I don't want to be filed away in an old man's home," he whispers.

The key words are "filed away." Now a Jewish man speaks, "My wife and I," he says, "lived together 53 years. She died six years ago. You just can't tell me 'forget it.' " There is silence. His voice starts to break, and an announcer comes on with cheerful words about the aged.

Well, what are we to do? There is no solitary solution. If we—who earn a living, run the nation and create the climate of culture—are responsible for our young, are we not also responsible for the old? Mercy is predicated on the degree of helplessness. It shouldn't be. It should be based upon the need.

My father lives in a room full of newspapers and books at my sister's house. He is 80. He worked from the age of nine until he was 77. He has his social security and his police pension. He takes retirement well because he is surrounded by love and oral argument—both of which keep him on his toes. But how about Herbert Meinert? Herb is an old friend, a high school teacher. He reached retirement age and, in spite of the fact that his judgment is more mature than ever, he was dumped.

With social security, he is afraid to go out and earn money because, if he goes beyond a small amount, he becomes ineligible for social security. Sal Santora, another friend, did work around my house. Once he was a good barber; once he owned a restaurant. Now what? After few checks, he apologizes and says: "I can't do any more for you until next year, Mr. Bishop. I'm afraid they will cut off the social security."

Thus social security, designed to help the aged to an income, becomes a bale of hay in front of a tired horse. The faster the horse runs, the less he gets. The aged are considered to be a glut on the labor market. No one wants them. In fact, most organizations consider a man of 35 too old to employ.

Meanwhile, American medicine figures new ways to keep our old people alive and active. So we have more old people, who do not want to be "filed away." Ironically, we also have more married sons and daughters who do not want to be burdened with old parents. When they have to take a mother or father in with them, the old ones often pay the price in daily humiliation.

Emil Herman's mother was 85 when she decided to try the home for the aged at Bergen Pines Hospital. She was a remarkable woman. "I'll give the place a try," she said. It turned out that she loved the place and the people. She found elderly women who "talked" her language, enuciated her ideas, and compared symptoms with her. After a month, she no longer wanted to go home, and she didn't look forward to long visits from her family.

Others feel that a home for the aged is the ultimate rebuff. And, depending upon the state of mind of the person, they are right. Some can acclimate themselves to a home, others cannot. With age comes an atrophy of glands with their secretions, and this in turn often brings on depression in persons who are otherwise well balanced. They feel "down" most of the time.

They think negatively. A grandchild who displays a good report card is told curtly that it should be straight A's. This is thoughtlessness, the trade mark of age. It leads to bristling from the child's parents, directed toward the grandparent. The result is that the old person becomes more cautious in speech, less inclined to comment on anything, for fear that it may lead to reprisals.

Age is a merry-go-round. We begin life infantile and selfish, and we end the long walk toward death with the same attitude. It isn't deliberate. Do you enjoy the same things you did 10 years ago? Probably not. We change our notions about games, love, food, dress, goals and philosophy as we grow older. No one stands pat from the dawn of adolesence to the onset of age. The changes are slow and inexorable. We are prisoners inside our bodies, and the condition of the prison alters the outlook on life.

Do I have a solution for old people? No. I have done a lot of thinking about it. A few aspects seem obvious of solution. Men should not be forced to retire at the age of 65 unless there is a physical or emotional handicap. Elderly women should be used around the house to do whatever work they are able to do. Old couples should, in addition to social security, be permitted to earn half of whatever they earned in the 10 years before retirement.

The greatest requirement is to be needed, to be wanted. The next time you become impatient with elderly persons, remember, they are us: tomorrow...

Claverack Youth Dies of Injuries

Injured on Sunday when struck by a car as he chased a basketball across a highway near his home, John Barry Waldorf, 15, of Claverack, died Thursday in Columbia Memorial Hospital, Hudson.

Columbia County Coroner Robert Near Jr., has ruled the death was accidental. The boy died of a lacerated brain and skull fracture.

Troopers at Claverack said the car was operated by John Streett Jr., 22, of Ghent, who was traveling south on Route 217 near Route 23 in Claverack. Streett told police the boy ran into the path of the car while trying to retrieve a basketball.

Ready Paratroopers For Flight to Iran

WASHINGTON (AP)—A brigade of U.S. Army paratroopers is expected to fly to Iran next month in a new long-range demonstration of American ability to reinforce an ally living in the Soviet Union's shadow.

Informed sources said today Air Force transports will carry the soldiers roughly 6,000 miles to a link with Iranian troops. They will maneuver together for a few days.

Iran is one of this country's more vulnerable allies, and there were indications the drill is intended as much for diplomatic as for military reasons.

It was understood the brigade will be drawn from the 101st Airborne Division based at Ft. Campbell, Ky., and will carry along its heavy equipment.

An airborne brigade has about 3,500 men.

No Crash Injuries

An Ellenville Central School district suburban bus and a Town of Wawarsing dump truck were involved in a collision at 3 p. m. Thursday on the Irish Cape Road west of Route 209 in Napanoch, but no injuries were reported. Ellenville state police said Mae Krum, 40, of Ellenville, was driving the suburban-bus east on the road when a truck operated by Earl Krom, 41, also of Ellenville, reportedly pulled out from the north shoulder and the vehicles collided. Tropers reported the bus driver and one child on the bus, and Krom were not injured.

Digging Starts for Long-Lost Sybaris

Italy's Greatest Goldmine Still It's Buried Treasures

By JAMES M. LONG

ROME (AP)—After 20 to 30 centuries, Italy's greatest goldmine is still the buried archaeological treasures of its fabled past.

The take each year is fabulous—in priceless finds for museums and hundreds of thousands of dollars in contraband for smugglers.

Found in the past few months have been the long lost Greek colony of Sybaris, whose dancing horses led to the downfall of a luxury-loving populace, and the mystery mummy girl of Grottarossa whose body after 1,800 years still is scented with the perfume of an unknown art of embalming.

Last Mystery City

Still sought were Spina, last mystery city of the long dead Etruscans, a Rosetta stone clue to translation of the still unreadable Etruscan language, and relics of the Greek warfleet naval defeat in history.

Under Italian law all archaeologic objects—the old or the newly discovered—are property of the state.

That was prompted by necessity. A few centuries ago noble Roman families hauled away statues and whole buildings of ancient Rome to decorate their villas.

Digging Starts

In far southern Italy aerial photographs finally disclosed the outlines of what Italian archaeologists are convinced is long lost Sybaris. Digging has just started.

Sybaris was the Greek colony whose late to bed and late to rise habits made Sybarite a synonym for voluptuous living.

It was founded by the Greeks in 720 B.C. and was danced to doom 2,500 years ago by its perfetes. When Sybaris was atforming horses.

The Sybarites had trained them to dance to music as entertainment at the nightly wine fetes. When Sybaris was attacked by its poorer and weaker neighbor Croton, the Crotonians won by a trick.

Trick Cavalry

When the famed Sybarite cavalry charged their infantry ranks, the Crotonian band played dance music and the charge broke into chaos as the Sybarite horses pranced and pirouetted to the tune.

The latest major find was the mystery mummy of a girl of 7 or 9, dug up amazingly after 18 centuries at Grottarossa, just north of Rome.

The embalming process, with a fluid still fragrant after the centuries, is believed to be Oriental or Egyptian. The theory is that the child was the daughter of a Roman consul in the east, that she died there and was embalmed so that her body could be brought home for burial.

American archaeologists, particularly from Princeton University and the University of Pennsylvania, have taken a prominent part in the excavations in Italy.

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, March 13, 1964. There are 293 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1791, Thomas Paine's book, "The Rights of Man," was published. Although written by Paine as a reply to criticism of the French Revolution, the book is nevertheless a part of American lore and an inspiration to free men everywhere.

On this date:

In 1775, the first blood of the American Revolution was shed at Westminster, Vt.

In 1938, Nazi Germany annexed Austria.

In 1946, Russian Premier Josef Stalin referred to Winston Churchill as "a firebrand of war" following a speech at Fulton, Mo., in which Churchill had proposed closer ties between Britain and the United States.

Ten years ago — By a 17-1 vote, the 10th Inter-American Conference, meeting in Caracas, Venezuela, adopted an anti-Communist resolution designed to warn Russia to keep out of Western Hemisphere affairs.

Five years ago—France told her NATO Allies that she would retain control of her Mediterranean fleet, even in wartime.

One year ago — The United States spelled out its views on how on-site inspections should operate under a treaty to ban nuclear testing.

Rondout Valley Science Fair Slated Tuesday

The third annual Science Fair of the Rondout Valley Central High School will be held in the cafeteria Tuesday from 7 until 9 p. m. It is sponsored jointly by the science department and the P-TF and is open to all parents and friends of the school.

Elimination contests have been held in each science class. The winners will exhibit their projects at the fair. These projects were undertaken on a voluntary basis and are the result of individual interests and curiosities requiring many months of work.

The judges will be science teachers from neighboring high schools of Ellenville, Onteora and New Paltz. The winners will be announced in the auditorium at 8:30 p. m. There will also be some interesting demonstrations set up by the chemistry and physics departments. These will show the wide range of interests and some of the equipment available at the high school.

The top winners at the fair will exhibit their projects on April 18 at the Southeastern Science Congress held at Orange County Community College, Middletown.

Each year the S & E Farms awards $25 to the student in the junior high school who is judged to have the best project. The S & E Farms also sponsor a $200 award to the senior who is judged to have the best individual research project. Award is given at graduation.

15,000 Oppose Busing Plan In New York City March

NEW YORK (AP) — About 15,000 white parents, protesting plans to transfer pupils from neighborhood schools, braved swirling snow Thursday in a 2½-mile march from the Board of Education headquarters in Brooklyn to City Hall in Manhattan.

More than 70 per cent of the marchers were women, and only a few Negroes took part.

Spokesmen for the demonstrators made it clear they do not oppose integration, but they do object to involuntary busing of their children from neighborhood schools.

The board is scheduled to announce on March 25 adoption of the so-called Princeton Plan — which would pair predominantly white with predominantly Negro or Puerto Rican schools and exchange pupils by bus to eliminate segregation stemming from housing patterns.

The board's plan also has been attacked by civil rights groups, which contend it does not go far enough or fast enough toward ending de facto segregation.

The civil rights groups last Feb. 3 staged a massive, one-day school boycott.

The board, in its initial plan, will match 40 elementary schools and 20 junior high schools to attain a better racial balance in the school system.

ANPA Challenges Federal Group on Cigarette Ads

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Newspaper Publisher Association says it has challenged the authority of the Federal Trade Commission to put into effect trade regulation rules affecting cigarette advertising.

"This is a job for Congress," the association said in a statement released Thursday and submitted to the FTC last Monday.

Arthur B. Hanson, ANPA general counsel, will testify for the association at an FTC hearing March 18.

The ANPA, while emphasizing that it takes no position as to the merits or demerits of cigarette smoking, added:

"If the Federal Trade Commission can under the law state to any industry what its advertising must or must not contain. . .then it must be assumed that it can do this for all industry and, for that matter, all advertisers in this country under similar circumstances."

The famous Shwe Dagon Pagoda is located at Rangoon, Burma.

World News in Brief

Demand Nehru Resign

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Ten thousand demonstrators paraded through New Delhi today, shouting demands that ailing Prime Minister Nehru resign. "Nehru is paralyzed, the government is paralyzed," the demonstrators shouted.

The demonstration was organized by the Indian Socialist party ostensibly to protest the rising cost of living. It quickly took an anti-Nehru turn.

Nehru, 74, has withdrawn from public life since suffering a stroke Jan. 7. Most of his duties are being handled by subordinates, and some of his closest advisers are maneuvering to succeed him.

Yank Bodies Recovered

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — The bodies of two Americans whose helicopter crashed Monday while escorting Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara on a field trip have been recovered, authorities reported today.

Spec. 5 W.M. Wright Jr. of Phoenix City, Ala., and Pfc. John F. Shea of Willimantic, Conn., drowned when their helicopter plunged into the Bassac River 100 miles west of Saigon. The other two crewmen escaped.

Won't Be Refuge

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia (AP)—Prime Minister Kenneth Kaunda served notice today that Northern Rhodesia will not permit use of its territory as a refuge for rebels seeking to oust the Congo's central government.

Kaunda gave the pledge in a joint communique issued at the close of a three-day visit by Congolese Premier Cyrille Adoula.

The communique said border control would be strengthened by the two countries.

$685 Million Deficit

OTTAWA (AP) — Canada's Liberal government expects to finish the fiscal year March 31 with a $685 million deficit, third highest in the nation's peacetime history.

But Finance Minister Walter L. Gordon said in a white paper presented to the House of Commons Thursday that Canada's improved chances for a lower deficit in the next fiscal year. He noted that the Gross National Product rose 6 per cent last year.

Dismisses Charge Against GE on Retail Price-Fix

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission has overruled a hearing examiner and dismissed charges of retail price fixing against General Electric Co., Schenectady, N.Y.

But the FTC said it would keep the company's merchandising plan under close scrutiny.

The commission's action Thursday overruled a cease and desist order issued May 28, 1962 by examiner Andrew C. Goodhope.

The commission had charged that the General Electric plan specified the company would not help pay for advertising by any retailer which charged prices lower than those suggested by GE.

"The record is not adequate to enable an informed determination on the merits," the FTC said.

Teacher Ruled Suicide

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)—Dr. John C. Sherman, county coroner, says the death of a 46-year-old schoolteacher was an apparent suicide.

Willis L. Brown, an English teacher at Duanesburg Central School, plunged to his death Thursday from the fourth floor of a downtown hotel. Police said Brown, a bachelor, had registered at the hotel Foster two days before his death.

Walton Man Is Renamed Director By Dairy Group

DELHI — Howard Merrill of Walton was reelected director of District 8, American Dairy Association and Dairy Council of New York, during the organizational meeting of the seven-man board in the Farm Bureau office here.

Jack Damgaard of Bovina Center was reelected chairman; Mrs. Margaret Hillriegel of Callicoon was elected vice chairman; Milton Ward of Delhi reelected alternate director and Raymond Rabeler of Bovina Center reelected secretary.

Bruce Cross of Prattsville and Niels Norberg of East Meredith are the other members of the board. District 8 is made up of Delaware, Greene, Sullivan and Ulster Counties.

It was decided that a dairy princess contest would be held in each of the district's counties, with the winners competing for the state title at the New York State Exposition in September.

Mrs. Hillriegel was named chairman for Sullivan County, with Edwin Faber of Callicoon as assistant; Bruce Cross, chairman for Greene County, Clyde Drinells, assistant; Jack Damgaard, Delaware County chairman; Tom Sheldon, assistant. Merrill is to act as general chairman and coordinator.

Organizational meetings for each county have been scheduled for March 30 at 8 p. m. in the Extension offices of the respective counties.

Local Driver Fined

A $50 fine was imposed and paid before Justice Wilfred Doolittle of Town of Rosendale by a motorist who was charged with reckless driving last Feb. 9. Dennis Elmendorf, 18, of 106 Farrelly Street was charged by Deputy Sheriffs Calvert Harvey and Silas Countryman with forcing a car into the north-bound lane of Route 32 at the junction of Route 213 last month. Elmendorf had been under $50 bail since arraignment before Justice Doolittle. Wednesday the case came up for disposition and on a plea of guilty a $50 fine was imposed and paid.

Killed by Avalanche

JACKSON, Wyo. (AP)—Dick Pittman, a ski patrolman who saved a man buried by a snowslide last January, was killed by an avalanche Thursday.

Pittman, 30, was hurled 1,000 feet down Snow King Mountain and buried 10 minutes before his body was recovered.

Soldier Indicted In Two Ax Deaths

MONTICELLO, N.Y. (AP)—A soldier accused of the ax slaying of two persons last New Year's day in a rage over being jilted by a girl was indicted Thursday on murder charges.

The Sullivan County grand jury handed up two counts of first degree murder and one of attempted first-degree murder against Roy Scaramuzzo, 24, who was home on leave from Fort Sill, Okla.

The indictment said he killed Joseph McAdam, 49, assistant director of the Sullivan County Motor Vehicles Bureau, and Judith Meddaugh, 19, of White Lake, N.Y., a telephone operator.

It said he attempted to kill Florence McAdam, 20, his former girl friend and daughter of the slain man. She was in a hospital several weeks and since has recovered.

McAdam's wife was in a hospital at the same time and was not involved.

Manhasset to Close Down Negro School

MANHASSET, N.Y. (AP)—The Manhasset Valley Elementary School, with 99 per cent of its student body composed of Negroes, will be closed to halt de facto segregation.

The Manhasset Board of Education voted Thursday night to shut down the school at the end of the school year and transfer the 166 pupils to two all-white Manhasset schools.

Federal Dist. Judge Joseph C. Zavatt of Brooklyn last January ordered the board to draw up by April 6 an acceptable plan for ending segregation by next September.

Strike at DeLaval

Approximately 50 technical engineers at the DeLaval Separator Co., 25 Columbia Street, Poughkeepsie, today went on strike over failure to agree on a new contract. Local 178 of the Technical Engineers Union, AFL-CIO set up picket lines. The old contract expired March 8. No date has been set for further negotiations between union officials and plant management. A plant official reportedly called the picketing a violation of the contract between the company and union, and said the plant is open and production is on schedule.

Mandarin is the common name for all public officials in imperial China, the Chinese name for whom is Kuan.

Dutchess Woman Awarded Honor For Saving Boy

Mrs. Mary Race of Salt Point, Dutchess County, on Thursday received a medal and $750 in cash from the Carnegie Foundation Inc., at Pittsburgh, Pa., as a reward for saving the life of 15-year-old Michael Melville, who fell into a creek near his home in 1962.

Mrs. Race was attracted to the creek by the cries for help shouted by the boy as he was carried downstream by the swift flowing waters. She waded into the shallow part of the stream and then plunged into the water and held the boy's head above water until they reached shore.

The she placed the youth over her knees and applied artificial respiration.

Favor Mahar, Waryas For Posts in State

Members of the executive committee of the Dutchess County Democratic Committee Thursday night voted unanimously to recommend two local public officials as the party candidates for state senator and assemblyman at a meeting scheduled for March 31.

County Democratic Chairman Albert Hecht said the executive committee will recommend Town of Poughkeepsie Supervisor Thomas D. Mahar as candidate for the senate seat and Poughkeepsie's Mayor Victor C. Waras as the party candidate for assemblyman.

Supervisor Mahar is incumbent chairman of the county board of supervisors, and town supervisor, a post he has held for several terms.

The executive committee will submit its recommendation to the full Democratic County Committee at a meeting March 31.

KKKs Arrested

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Five officials of the Ku Klux Klan have been arrested on federal charges that they intimidated and threatened a 6-year-old Negro boy by plotting the Feb. 16 bombing of his home.

FBI agents arrested four of the leaders in the white supremacy movement in Jacksonville Thursday night. The fifth was arrested at Smyrna, Tenn.

Held under $10,000 bonds each were Barton H. Griffin, 35; Jacky Don Harden, 25; Willie Eugene Wilson, 39; and Donald Eugene Spegal, 31, all of Jacksonville; and Robert Pittman Gentry, 28, of Murfreesboro, Tenn.

Water Shortage Over

NEW YORK (AP)—The city's water shortage has ended and the voluntary water conservation program is being discontinued.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner, who made the announcement Thursday night, praised the city's residents for their cooperation in the conservation program.

LBJ to View Floods

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Johnson will make a flying trip over the seven-state Ohio River flood area this afternoon. He plans stops at Pittsburgh and Cincinnati to confer with governors of the affected states.

Johnson's trip to get a first hand look at the worst Ohio River flood in 20 years was announced by the White House barely two hours before the President's scheduled 1 p.m. EST departure.

No Feuding: RFK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy denies reports that he and President Johnson are feuding.

The stories of a long-standing and widening rift gained broad circulation in connection with a write-in campaign on behalf of the attorney general as a vice presidential choice in this week's New Hampshire primary. A similar effort in Wisconsin addded to the speculation.

LBJ Visits MacArthur

WASHINGTON (AP) —President Johnson made an informal visit today to Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who is recovering after major surgery at Walter Reed Army Hospital.

The President drove to the hospital entrance about 11:15 a.m. and went quickly to the third floor "V.I.P." suite where the 84-year-old general of the Army is quartered.

Johnson stayed about half an hour, then returned to the White House.

Special Program At West Hurley

This Saturday from 10 a. m. to 11, a special program on horses will be given by Mrs. Pat Jacobson, well known equestrienne in the West Hurley Library.

Mrs. Jacobson's talk will be augmented with photographs and some paintings and drawings which she has made.

A winner of several riding and jumping awards, Mrs. Jacobson conducts a successful riding school in Woodstock where she resides with her husband and child. In the picture above, she stands with "Bagattelle," a horse she trained and rode in several award winning shows. The horse is owned by J. C. van Rijn of Woodstock.

This program is part of a regular series of Story Hours at the Library. Area grade children are invited to attend.

Student to Speak

Sener Ozer of Konya, Turkey, Onteora's foreign student, will speak before the West Hurley Fire Department on Monday, March 16 at 8 p. m. in the Glenford Firehouse. He will also be the guest of the Agapae Rebekah Lodge at Bearsville on Wednesday, March 18 at 8 p. m.

Board Names Building, Port Group

Charles Relyea (R), Hurley, calling on legislators to support a bill which would permit a town supervisor to authorize the clearing of certain private roads in case of emergency, met with Democratic opposition after Supervisor George Mollenhauer (D), Rosendale, said the legislation would "open the door" for lawsuits against the town or county. The resolution was adopted 15 to 14 over Democratic opposition.

It was pointed out that recently a structure had burned down because it was located off a public highway and it was impossible for fire equipment to get to the place because the roadway was not plowed. The resolution calls for removal of "the obstruction of a private farm road or driveway caused by flood, heavy snow, windstorm or other natural cause" which often results in hardship and suffering due to sickness, need for transoprtation of farm products or necessary supplies and lack of fire protection.

Favors Listing

The board went on record as favoring the issuance of a county-wide listing of motels, hotels, boardinghouses and resort areas in a privately sponsored brochure. It was noted that numerous communities now issue pamphlets but that there was no county-wide listing which could be sent to those who inquire as to accommodations and prices.

Supervisor Molyneaux said the brochure would fill a need and since many people would be attending the New York World's Fair from distant points, such a brochure would bring many people en route to the fair to Ulster County if the accommodations were available to them. The board authorized the clerk of the board to write a letter of endorsement to Michael Starkman, sponsor of the project.

Bids ranging from $6.39 a page by the Falkner Publishing Company to a high of $8.65 were reported by Supervisor Alexander J. Banyo (R), Ulster, for printing the 1962 and 1963 board proceedings. Banyo reported legal action had been instituted against the firm which had the contract to print the 1960 proceedings. They have not yet been delivered.

A communication was received from Modena Rod and Gun Club opposing an open season of anterless deer.

Later on motion of Supervisor Harold Van Aken (R), Denning, on behalf of the Committee on Propogation of Game, a resolution was adopted requesting the Conservation Commission not to issue any permits, or allow taking of anterless deer in Ulster County and requesting the Legislature to take action prohibiting such taking.

Permit System Abused

The resolution of Van Aken pointed out the slaughter of doe and fawns has decreased the deer population in the county and also stressed the "abuse of the permit system." This has diminished the deer population to such an extent that "the future of the county's attraction to deer hunters who annually spend considerable sums of money here, is in danger."

On motion of Minority Leader John Quimby, Marlboro, the clerk of the board is directed to supply to the chairman, the majority leader and the minority leader, copies of minutes of meetings one week after such meetings.

It was pointed out that it becomes necessary to frequently refer to past actions of the board and that minutes of the prior meeting are not read at the next meeting and that dispensing of the reading of such minutes of previous meetings is tantamount to approval, and for those reasons copies should be supplied to the board leaders.

A motion of Supervisor Majestic opposing the imposition of a 5 per cent surtax on state income taxes next year, was tabled by a vote of 19 to 12 and referred to the Board's Tax Base Study Committee, on motion of Majority Leader Rapp.

Tabled 16 to 14

Also tabled by a vote of 16 to 14 was a resolution of Supervisor Majestic which sought to instruct the legislators to either amend the state tax law, or grant state aid to villages, towns or counties having reduced assessed valuations resulting from tax exempt properties.

The resolution stated the legislation should in no way impose any other or additional taxes on servicemen, religious, educational or charitable organizations or orders. The matter was referred to the Tax Case Study Committee.

A communication was received from the Sullivan-Schafer Post, American Legion, New Paltz, asking that a sub-office for issuance of automobile licenses be established in New Paltz. Referred to Committee on county clerk.

A request from the Family Court received at the last meeting of the board requesting a transfer of $1,500 for transcribing hearing minutes, was removed from the table and adopted by a 29 to 2 vote.

Favor Albany Bill

Under a resolution offered by Chairman Peter Williams (R), Saugerties, the board approved pending state legislation which would provide that paraplegic veterans who served in the active military or naval forces during any war, be paid $500 annually for life, in monthly payments.

Fire companies who own property would be granted to $40,000 maximum tax exemption under legislation pending in the Senate. The present $20,000 exemption would be doubled under a bill offered by Senator E. Ogden Bush. Supervisor Savago offered a resolution putting the board's approval on the legislation.

A resolution of Majority Leader Rapp was adopted calling on the legislature to approve legislation amending the Real Property Tax Law and the Education Law which generally makes more, state lands and state park lands subject to taxation or provide for state-aid or in other ways alleviate the tax problems created in many townships by state-owned lands.

Pending state legislation which would increase from 10 per cent to 20 per cent county distribution of the state tax on motor and diesel motor fuel money, was approved by the board on motion of Supervisor Banyo. Local legislators will be instructed to support the bill.

RR Signals Sought

Signals at all railroad grade crossings would be required under a resolution offered by Supervisor Lester S. Davis, (R), Olive. He called attention to the increasing number of grade crossing accidents at unprotected crossings, and offered a resolution to be sent to the Public Service Commission and the state legislators calling for protection to be born by the railroad. The resolution was adopted.

Referred to the Fire Advisory Board was a resolution by Supervisor Bell (D), Sixth Ward, calling for appointment of a committee to study the advisability of setting up a Fire Training Center for volunteer and paid fire departments of the county.

Approval was also given to a resolution of Supervisor Joseph Martorana (R) Plattekill, calling for the legislature to approve a bill which provides that towns shall be reimbursed by the State Highway Department for the full cost of maintaining state highways abandoned to the town, for a period of at least three years from the time of abandonment. This would also include snow removal.

Prior to adjournment Supervisor Roger Mabie (D), Esopus, remarked that he desired to compliment the Building Committee on the furnishings in the revamped court house. Mabie said the furnishings, chairs and other appurtenances were "more comfortable" and better looking than the furnishings in the old court room.

Plan Tour of Site

Supervisor Molyneaux, chairman of the Community College Committee, suggested that when weather permits a bus be hired to take the members of the board of supervisors, a representative of the Board of Health, the college trustees and the architect to the site of the permanent college at Stone Ridge. There the site could be inspected and "some of the problems" which now exist could be discussed and perhaps arrive at some solution.

On motion of Supervisor Savago, the board adjourned out of respect to the memory of Charles C. Upright of New Paltz, a former supervisor of the Town of Gardiner who served from 1918 to 1921.

Reade Names Bell

The appointment of Arthur E. Bell as controller of Walter Reade-Sterling, Inc., was announced today by Edwin Gage, administrative vice-president, secretary and treasurer. Bell joined the company after five years with ABC Vending where he held the same position. Previously he was employed in the Treasurer's Division of the Du Pont Company in Wilmington, Del., and prior to that for 13 years with RKO Theatres as assistant treasurer. He fills a post vacated recently by the resignation of Seymour J. Smith.

Library Factor Cited in Choosing Industry Sites

"The local library is not only an index of the community's development but one of the factors considered by industry when looking for new sites," stated Leon Karpel, in a recent talk to the League of Women Voters of Kingston at Kingston Library.

Karpel is director of Mid-Hudson Libraries, a regional library system serving Ulster, Dutchess, Putnam, Greene and Columbia Counties.

One of 22 Systems

The speaker sketched the history and philosophy of library system development, pointing out that Mid-Hudson is one of 22 such systems now covering the state. Library systems have helped to provide a type of library service to rural and suburban communities that was heretofore available only in large city complexes, he said.

The Mid-Hudson system services an area of 3,000 square miles and 378,000 people. Kingston is one of the 50 member libraries in the system.

Mid-Hudson Libraries is financed by the state and is governed by a local board of trustees representing the five counties served. The three board members from Ulster County are Dan Allen of Kingston, Edward Dalby of Marlboro and Martin Rubin of Phoenicia.

Karpel pointed out that each of the member libraries retains its own independence, continues to select its own books and is supported and administered locally.

The speaker then discussed some recent changes in public libraries and indicated that circulation has risen more than 30% in the last five years demonstrating that people are reading more than ever.

Karpel provided some minimum standards as guidelines for development; a minimum per capita support of $1.50, or $3 or more for good service. The present budget of the Kingston Library provides less than $1 per capita.

Minimum Requirements

A minimum staff for a city library of the size of Kingston would be about 10 to 15 and includes a full time professional director.

The library does not have a full time director at present and the staff of eight includes several part-time employes.

A library should have a collection providing two books per capita or 60,000 books for the City of Kingston. Of this number at least 10 per cent should be added each year. Kingston's collection contains 23,000 volumes and the library added 2,200 volumes last year (which was more than had been added in any of the provious five years.)

A city library of this size should subscribe to 100 different periodicals and have at least 500-1,000 phonograph records and the Kingston Library falls far short in both categories.

Many Strides Made

Karpel noted that many strides have been made, such as the bright, attractive Children's Room which was a dingy, dusty storehouse some years ago and other library developments.

Karpel concluded with the comment, "It is obvious that any major changes in the Kingston Library are dependent on increased support and this is necessary to provide the kind of library service the people of Kingston need and deserve."

Catching Up With Kansas Judge's View

Supreme Court Recognizes Need for Press Criticism

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court balanced the books a bit this week when it gave newspapers more freedom than at any time in history in criticizing government officials' official conduct.

The court, in doing so, was catching up with a principle laid down 56 years ago by a judge in Kansas.

The nine justices, in their unanimous opinion, didn't give newspapers an absolute immunity against libel suits for damages by criticized officials. But they came close.

A citizen or newspaper won't have to prove the total truth of a criticism. The court made allowance for error in fact or opinion, even though an official is defamed.

Now a newspaper doesn't have to fear a damage suit unless the criticism can be proved to have come from actual malice.

But public officials—thanks to an earlier Supreme Court decision—already had that much immunity against damages suits when they acted officially.

Justice William J. Brennan, who wrote this latest opinion, argued critics of government should have the greatest freedom possible except for provable malice, and he said:

"Such a privilege for criticism of official conduct is appropriately analogous to the protection accorded a public official when he is sued for libel by a private citizen. . . ."

He recalled that earlier opinion of the Supreme Court which said the statements of a federal official are "absolutely privileged if made 'within the outer perimeter' of his duties." Brennan added:

"The states accord the same immunity to statements of their highest officers, although some differentiate their lesser officials and qualify the privilege they enjoy.

"But all hold that all officials are protected unless actual malice can be proved.

"The reason for the official privilege is said to be that the threat of damage suits would otherwise 'inhabit the fearless, vigourous and effective administration of government' and 'dampen the ardor of all but the most resolute, or the most irresponsible, in the unflinching discharge of their duties.'"

Brennan added: "Analogous considerations support the privilege for the citizen-critic of government. It is as much his duty to criticize as it is the official's duty to administer."

The basis of the court's decision goes like this:

Since it is vital to good government that citizens be free to criticize the governors, fear of damages, because enough damages could ruin them, will frighten them into silence. When that happens, good government is in danger.

Brennan cited a now-famous opinion written in 1908 by a Kansas judge who was upheld by his state's supreme court. His view, adopted by a number of other state courts, said in part:

When a newspaper writes about a public official—and the newspaper believes its information is truthful and "the whole thing is done without malice"—it should be free from a damage suit even though some of its information may be untrue.

That's about what the Supreme Court said this week.

Saugerties Man Returned for Burglary Trial

Sought by authorities more than a year for questioning in connection with a $1,718.42 payroll theft at an area dress factory, James McKnight, 29, also known as Buster Carney, RD 4, Saugerties, was apprehended earlier this week in Montana.

McKnight, who was indicted by an Ulster County grand jury on June 12, 1963, on charges of burglary and grand larceny, is accused of taking the payroll from a second floor office of the Maranda Inc., 16 Livingston Street, Saugerties, on Feb. 15, 1963.

The accused man was returned here from Glasgow, Mont., Thursday afternoon in custody of County Investigator Thomas Mayone and Deputy Sheriff Joseph Gentile. He was held in jail pending arraignment in county court.

Refused to Return

The district attorney's office said today that after McKnight left this area, he went to Canada where he was under surveillance by Canadian authorities and the FBI. Recently, when McKnight left Canada and went to Montana, District Attorney David Corwin's office was notified.

A bench warrant has been issued for McKnight's arrest.

At the request of the district attorney's office, Montana authorities took McKnight into custody as a fugitive from justice. The accused man refused to waive extradition to return to Ulster County to face the indictment.

Ordered Back

An extradition warrant was obtained from the office of Governor Rockefeller, and after a hearing the Governor of Montana ordered McKnight turned over to Mayone and Gentile, who arrested him on the bench warrant on Tuesday.

The original investigation of the Maranda payroll burglary was directed by Saugerties Police Chief Harold Mills and Senior BCI Investigator Edward Shannon and Investigator Joseph Ventriglia of the Kingston sub-station. Teletype alarms had been sent out asking authorities in other states to assist in locating McKnight.

After the Maranda dress factory burglary, authorities said the money taken represented a payroll of the firm and was to have been distributed to workers in the company's Hudson factory.

Left Footprints

At the outset of the investigation, authorities said the burglary apparently was the work of one man, judging from footprints found in the snow that led from a parking space at the curb on Livingston Street to the Miranda factory and then across the roof to a door. The intruder, authorities said, climbed a scaffold or platform on the side of the building near the ventilating area, scaled the roof and jimmied the door leading to the second floor.

The payroll was in a cardboard box with time cards and pay envelopes that had been left in an unlocked cabinet.

Teachers to Meet

state commissioner of education to discuss grievances by the teachers in the schools of the consolidated district with the salary plans as approved by the school board members. This meeting was decided because it is the opinion of the committee that a morale factor might not permit the presentation of a true picture of the salary situation.

It was decided last night to follow through with the group grievance plan discussed at a recent teachers meeting at which the salary situation was aired at length.

The staff salary committee headed by Sweeney will endeavor to encourage teachers in the consolidated district schools to attend meetings of the Board of Education for the remainder of the year.

Lions Exposition

Carlton Conklin, publicity chairman for the event, said various awards would be made nightly during the exposition, and a large search light will be set up on the Armory to indicate location of the show.

Joseph Scholar, Lions Club president, was chairman of the 1963 exposition, one of the largest shows in the area during the year, which attracted more than 15,000 people. Karl Pitcock and John Feltham are cochairmen of the 1964 exposition committee.

More details of the show will be announced later, Conklin said.

Stories Show Friday, 13th, Not Jinxed in This Area

Freeman Staff Writer

"Funny theeng happen to me on zee way to zee guilliotine," said the French revolutionist; "I jus remember—today ees Friday zee 13th—and I have not paid zee rent money yet."

Even then Jacques had no concern for "triskaidekaphobia." That's a high-sounding word—the Greek's word for it at that—for fear of the number 13, and used about twice a year in very few places, and only when Friday falls on the 13th of the month.

Experience in Kingston and the surrounding area, has proven Friday the 13th as a jinxed day to be a pure, unadulterated hoax. Why? A check on back issues of news stories shows that:

1. Schools have been closed at least three times this winter because of bad storms. Did you know that not one of these bad storms, or subsequent closing of schools occurred on Friday the 13th?

2. Some people worked up their temper and got mad at some other people. They threw things at each other, according to police reports. On Friday the 13th? No, on Thursday the 12th.

In fact, to illustrate how phony a superstition Friday the 13th is, did you know that one of the worst storms to hit the area last September—one which knocked out power lines and felled trees amid wind gusts up to 35 miles an hour—struck the area on Thursday the 12th of the month? By Friday everything was back to normal.

And, the day before Friday the 13th in September, there were complaints of someone pelting school buses at Abeel and Wurts Streets with stones and other missiles. And mothers of school children, who protested lack of bus transportation for their children, complained of being similarly clobbered by similar missiles they said were thrown from the school buses.

On Friday the 13th, there were no complaints of anybody throwing anything at anybody else. But, on Saturday the 14th, area residents woke up to temperatures as low as 31 degrees—somewhat offbeat for even a late summer month.

Friday the 13th was a comparatively uneventful one in December. Frank Sinatra Jr. was kidnaped and released—but that was before Friday. It was an unlucky day, however, for the youthful singer's abductors. They were arrested on that day and the $240,000 ransom money put up by Sinatra's famous father was recovered.

Locally, on that date, one of the most prominent front page items was a reminder that there were nine shopping days until Christmas.

Like 1963, Friday the 13th occurs twice during the year 1964. Today and in November. And we're not about to tempt fate to serve us up any "triskaidekaphobias." After all, the day isn't over yet. But up to now, we think it's a safe bet that the whole thing was just a gag and a superstition that didn't qualify as advertised.

B'nai B'rith Vote On Officers Set At Breakfast 15th

A paid up breakfast meeting of the Zepheniah Lodge of B'nai B'rith will be held on Sunday, March 15, at the vestry hall of Congregation Ahavath Israel at 10 a. m.

The meeting will be under program chairman Sy Semilof and its purpose will be the election of officers. The meeting will be free to all paid up members. Dues can be paid at the door.

The election of officers will be conducted by a committee headed by David Popick and including Ira Trask, Stanley Caple and Jerry Cohen.

Car Is Recovered

A car reported stolen Monday from Delaware Avenue was recovered Thursday afternoon in the Greenkill Park area. A police report at 4:30 p. m. said the 1964 Dodge of Michael Corcoran, of 401 Delaware Avenue, which had been taken from near his home, was located by BCI Investigator Joseph Ventriglia and Officer Floyd Krom, of the local police.

Injured in Skid

Henry W. Cramer, 37, of Goshen Street, Jewett, suffered a nose injury, police said, when his car skidded on Albany near Madison Avenue, at about 4 a. m. today, and struck a pole. He was treated at Kingston Hospital. Officers George Barringer and Albert Johnson investigated.

Lucky Friday Contest

The Hi-Lo department store today began a guessing game to prove that Friday the 13th can be a lucky day. Visitors to the store are asked to guess the number of thirteen's on display in the store. A wall in each department holds multiple displays of the number. Entry blanks are available free to guessers who might, at the end, carry home a stuffed black cat, a piece of a broken mirror, or a set of tickets to a baseball game featuring the New York Mets.

Revival Doubted

calling for increases for different groups of government workers were approved on lopsided nonrecorded votes.

Roll Call Does It

When the critical vote on over-all passage was imminent, a long-time economy champion, Rep. H.R. Gross, R-Iowa, demanded a roll call. This would force every House member to go on record on a pay boost for himself and would tell the voter how his congressman voted.

Gross' move turned the tide. Although a little while earlier the House had voted 125-37 to keep congressional pay increases in the bill, now 136 Republicans joined with 86 Democrats to defeat the measure 222-184.

The 149 Democrats and 35 Republicans who voted for passage now are on record in favor of a pay increase that they did not get.

MRS. CHRISTINE GALLOP

Area Young GOP Governor Elected To District Post

The election of Mrs. Christine Gallop of 54 Johnston Avenue as vice chairman of the Third Judicial District Young Republican Clubs took place Thursday night in Catskill.

Kenneth Van Praag, a member of the capital district club and an employe of the New York Republican State Committee, was elected chairman during the convention of the Young GOPers.

Comprises Seven Counties

The Third Judicial District is comprised of the counties of Albany, Rensselear, Greene, Columbia, Schoharie, Ulster and Sullivan.

Mrs. Gallop is presently serving as the County Governor of the Ulster County Young Republican Club and in addition, for the past two years has been treasurer of the local club. By virtue of her new office, she will serve on the important executive committee of the State Young Republican Association which determines policy for the entire state group and which is expected to play an important role in the forthcoming national election.

At last night's meeting at the Hop-O-Nose Marina, other officers elected were Charles Shattenkirk from the Columbia County Young Republican Club and Ellen Donovan of the Russell Sage College GOP Club.

Native of Staten Island

Mrs. Gallop was born in Staten Island, attended New York City schools and graduated from Kingston High School. She was the charter president of the American Legion Auxiliary Post 1748 in 19500; corresponding secretary of the Kingston Women's Bowling Association 1958-61; is a member of the National Secretaries Association (International), presently serving as publicity chairman; a member of the Benedictine Women's Auxiliary and a member of The Women's National Republican Club, Inc.

Mrs. Gallop is a legal secretary, employed by S. James Matthews a local attorney. She resides in Kingston with her daughter Sheila.

Bowling Items Stolen

Local police were notified Thursday that two bowling balls with carrying bags, and two pairs of bowling shoes, all valued at $100, were taken from the car of Michael Garrigan, of Windham. It was entered, he said, while parked near the Trailways bus terminal, central Broadway.

Charges Withdrawn

Two charges lodged against Ruth Sauter, 31, of 77 Hasbrouck Avenue, last Jan. 30, were withdrawn in city court today. She had been charged with third degree assault by Edward Scarfo, of 75 Hasbrouck Avenue, and with unlawful intrusion by Geraldine Longtoe, of 71 Hasbrouck Avenue.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) —Strength in coppers helped an irregularly higher stock market further into new high ground early this afternoon. Trading was active.

Coppers, spurred by price boost news, advanced fractions to 1 or 2 points.

Gains of a point or so also appeared among aerospace issues, chemicals, photographic and office equipment issues.

IBM touched another yearly peak and held about a 4-point gain after going higher at the start.

The coppers advanced from the start on news of strength in copper futures and raised prices by two major African producers. They increased their gains after American Smelting & Refining raised the price of copper by 1 cent to 32 cents a pound, the first change in the U.S. price since mid-May 1961.

Big Three motors eased. Several other groups were mixed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .4 at 301.8 with industrials up .8, rails up .1 and utilities up .1.

Activities Are Rated at Local Central School

This is the 14th in a series of articles reporting to the community the results of the evaluation by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools:

The visiting committee commended New Paltz Central School for its exceptionally fine program in music and physical activities. They also commended the school for the quality and quantity of school clubs and the high percentage of student participation in these activities.

Two other commendations were the quality and comprehensiveness of the assembly programs and the procedures set up for involving students in the evaluation of these programs. The responsible attitude on the part of student leaders toward further development of the present program also impressed the visiting committee.

The committee recommended a greater number of activities designed to challenge the academically talented such as debating, poetry, mathematics and language clubs. Since their visit, the school has added to the list of activities a debating club, creative writing club, coin club, hostess club and a medical careers club. They further recommended that close attention be paid to the quality of the various literary endeavors. A literary supplement to the school newspaper was published near the end of the last school year.

The final recommendation made was that all groups within the school continue to seek to identify unmet student needs and, where possible, to formulate ways of meeting them.

All-time highs in the number of senior high school girls and schools enrolled marked this, the 10th annual Betty Crocker search program. More than 484,000 girls in 14,000 of the nation's school's participated. Since the program was launched, more than three and a half million girls have participated and scholarships approximating one million dollars have been awarded.

The Betty Crocker Search is approved by the National Association of Secondary-School Principals. Judging is by Science Research Associates of Chicago, nationally known educational publishing and testing organization. The award was presented by Mrs. Esther Winkky, homemaking teacher, at an assembly last week at the high school.

Scholarship Winner

It has recently been announced by the Office of Admissions of Boston University that Bruce McKinney has been awarded a $900 scholarship for the coming school year. On continuation of satisfactory achievement, and of need, he will be eligible to apply for assistance in the subsequent upper-class years.

McKinney is presently a senior at New Paltz Central School. He was also the recipient of a New York State Regents College Scholarship. During his high school career he has been active in French Club and track and cross country teams. He has excelled in basketball. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McKinney of New Paltz.

Employment Service

The guidance department at New Paltz Central School is establishing a part-time employment bureau as a service to its students.

If there are any interested persons or firms interested in obtaining part-time help either during the school year or summer, they may contact the guidance department at the high school during school hours, indicating the type of job opening, the age required, hours and salary.

Students will be notified of the available jobs and will make the contacts with the prospective employer.

Cast for Senior Play

Arsenic and Old Lace, the senior play to be presented at the New Paltz High School March 20 and 21 in the auditorium at 8:30 p. m., has the following cast:

Abby Brewster, Linnea Nystrom; the Rev. Dr. Harper, Edward DuBois; Teddy Brewster, Gerald Sullivan; Officer Klein, Michael Formisano; Martha Brewster, Allison Patrick; Elaine Harper, Carol Bond; Mortimer Brewster, Stephen Raff; Mr. Gibbs, John Jenkins; Jonathan Brewster, Bruce McKinney; Dr. Einstein, John Gibbons; Officer O'Hara, James Badami; Lt. Rooney, Scott Yeager; Mr. Witherspoon, James Slane.

Tickets for the play will be available at Lane-Sargent Store or from any senior.

Orientation Plan

The group guidance for the eighth graders in the New Paltz Central School, under the direction of Miss Barbara Berlin, guidance counselor, have been underway for the past month and will continue for the remainder of the second semester.

One of the purposes of these sessions is to familiarize the students with the courses and activities available to them when they reach the ninth grade. It is hoped that by studying the courses and requirements for graduation, each student will be better able to choose a course of study that will best suit his goals and needs.

The students are presently getting a first hand experience in French and Spanish under the direction of Miss Judith Mosher and Edward Bernard. Mrs. Marcella Leininger of the business department is scheduled to discuss all the aspects of the business curriculum to acquaint the students with the course offered.

Following the orientation to high school sessions, the remaining time will be spent on the aspects that go into good study habits and skills.

Turk Demand

it would donate up to $2 million in addition to providing transportation and services for the troops. Britain promised $1 million.

Seeks U. N. Mediator

Thant was still looking for a U.N. mediator to seek a political solution to the communal strife between Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

Turkey vetoed his first choice, Jose Rolz-Bennett of Guatemala his deputy chief of cabinet. A U.N. spokesman said Turkey asked for a man of wider international reputation and more familiarity with the area.

In Nicosia, capital of Cyprus, Greek and Turkish Cypriots dug in along the city's truce line, and the British peace-keeping force fortified its own positions to prevent a showdown.

Among opposing witnesses were representatives of other bus companies.

Mayor Schwenk said he attended the hearing in support of the petition because he felt that such a service would be desirable by a majority of business firms and individuals in this area. He also feels it will be an incentive for major firms to locate here.

A decision of the PSC is not expected to be announced for several weeks and possibly longer because of the volume of testimony to be considered.

Tax-Exempt Bonds Are Not for the Rich Alone

Q—"I would like to invest $5,000 each in two tax-exempt bonds. Please suggest high grade issues and tell what they will yield and when they will mature. I am only in the 26 per cent income bracket but would still like to have some money in tax-exempts. Must these bonds be held to maturity? Also please suggest one good insurance stock." M. B.

A—I believe you should be commended for wanting a moderate position in high grade tax-exempts—the safest security you can buy with the exception of Governments. These bonds do not have to be held to maturity but can be sold readily at prevailing market prices.

I suggest San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District 3.40's due 6/15/92, selling to yield 3.35 per cent. Also I like City of Springfield, Mass., Housing Authority 3⅜'s due 1997, also offered on a 3.35 per cent basis.

For a single life insurance stock purchase I suggest Connecticut General Life—a very strong company.

Q—"I have been a widow for ten years. I was left with a new home; also 100 shares American Viscose; 100 Macy; 100 New York Central R. R.; 100 Radio Corp., and 600 U. S. Freight. I turned in my Viscose and got Monsanto Chemical and some cash which I don't need. I wish to invest in Long Island Lighting and American Telephone. Will you please give me your opinion on my holdings and the stocks I propose to buy?" M. R.

A—Please let me say that your husband was a shrewd and thoughtful man to leave you so well provided for.

I like all your stocks and your prospective purchases. But it does seem to me that you are too heavily represented in U. S. Freight. Although this is an excellent company, $32,000 seems too much for you to have in any given situation.

I believe I would hold 200 shares and diversify by switching the balance into Corn Products; Texaco and Sears, Roebuck.

McNamara Says

Saigon, McNamara told cheering Vietnamese that their new premier, Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, has a sound strategy for defeating the Reds and "we are confident these plans point the way to victory."

Situation 'Very Serious'

At the same time the secretary warned that he had found the situation "very serious" and he promised the U.S. government will provide whatever additional aid is necessary.

Aides said McNamara was convinced that only by increased American assistance and greater Vietnamese effort can the Communist tide be stemmed in Southeast Asia.

On his way back to Washington, McNamara stopped at Honolulu for conferences with Adm. Harry D. Felt, Pacific military commander, and Army, Navy and Air Force brass.

He told newsmen he anticipated additional trips to South Viet Nam.

Almost until the moment McNamara took off from Saigon he worked on his report to the President. He had a draft ready when he reached Hawaii.

Says Ruby Has

psychomotor epilepsy, but "he felt that he didn't want to come into a courtroom and testify where adversary procedure is followed."

In As Independent

Gibbs agreed to come as an independent witness, the attorney said.

Several expert witnesses, testifying for the state, said they disagree with Gibbs' conclusions about psychomotor epilepsy and his interpretation of electro-encephalograms (brain wave tracings) made in tests on Ruby.

The trial, which began Feb. 17, developed pretty much into a battle of psychiatrists.

Two Drivers Fined

Richard J. Rausch, 17, of RD 1, Box 376½, Kingston, admitted a charge of speeding in city court today and was fined $20. Joseph C. Graham, 43, of North Road, Tivoli, pleaded guilty to a stop-sign violation and was fined $5.

Ruta Lee Smashes Red Tape Barrier

Hollywood Actress Will See Grandma by Kremlin Call

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ruta Lee, familiar with Hollywood procedure, went to the front office to get something done — the front office in Moscow's Kremlin.

The actress, after a vain eight - year effort to obtain a Soviet exit visa to bring her 84-year-old grandmother to the United States, got word the other day that her grandmother was dying.

She tried all the regular methods of getting her parents and herself behind the Iron Curtain, but was told it would take months before anything could be done.

She broke through the Iron Curtain of red tape Wednesday night by placing a person-to-person call to the Kremlin to Nikita Khrushchev.

She didn't get Khrushchev, but she did talk for some $200 worth to a gentleman who identified himself as the Soviet premier's interpreter.

"He spoke English like a Harvard professor," the actress said. "And, like all foreigners think things are done in the United States, he suggested that I contact my congressman.

"I told him I had already done that, and just became more persuasive. The more persuasive I became, the more sympathetic he became.

"Finally, he told me I should contact the Soviet Embassy in Washington — something which I'd already done before."

Nevertheless, she called the Soviet Embassy again Thursday.

"I talked with a very courteous official who seemed to know a good deal about my problem. He allowed as how it might be possible to get the visa okayed in a matter of hours, instead of almost a month."

Result:

Saturday, with practically no red tape showing, Ruta and her Lithuanian - born parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kilmonis, will fly to London.

On Monday they are booked on a flight to Moscow, where the same day they will fly from Moscow to Vilnyus, the capital of Lithuania. Vilnyus is only 200 miles from Daugu, the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Ludvisa Kamandulis.

Mrs. William Helmrich Is Nominated to Head B'nai B'rith Women; Election March 25

B'nai B'rith Women will elect officers for the coming season at their March meeting scheduled for Wednesday March 25 at 8:30 p. m. in the Jewish Community Center.

This was announced at a recent meeting and Brotherhood program at Temple Emanuel at which Mrs. Irwin Gellen presided. The following slate was proposed by the nominating committee, headed by Mrs. Robert A. Ronder: president, Mrs. William Helmrich; vice-presidents, Mrs. Jerry Cohen, Mrs. Seymour Semilof and Mrs. Harris Gally; recording secretary, Mrs. Stanley Kohnberg; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Ronald Wolfield; treasurer, Mrs. Morton Levine; financial secretary, Mrs. Edwin Kalish; and counselor, Mrs. Irwin Gellen. Nominated as trustees: the Mmes. Ross Ellis, Irving Alcon, Sam Barnovitz, Charles S. Ronder, Robert Ronder and Isadore Werbalowsky.

Proposed as delegates to the Hudson Valley Council were the Mmes. Helmrich, Cohen, Semilof, Gally, Kalish, Kohnberg, Gellen, Arnold Pinsly, Marvin Millens, Flo Powell, and Harold Beller.

Members were also urged to buy tickets for the French romatic comedy, "The Suitor," which may be seen at the Lyceum Theatre. The performance on Sunday, March 15 at 8 p. m. will benefit B'nai B'rith philanthropies. Mrs. Harold Beller and Mrs. Ronald Wolfield, co-chairmen of the event, reported that the film, which takes an hilarious look at the life of a timid bachelor-turned-Lothario, will provide a chuckle-filled evening, as well as aid the work of the organization.

Tickets may be bought at the door Sunday night.

Mrs. John Levy, program cochairmen along with Mrs. Arnold Pinsly and Mrs. Robert Ronder, introduced the program at the last meeting. It featured four soloists and choral groups who give their services to four local houses of worship. The program was well attended and received many bravos from the audience.

The performers were Cantor Julian Lohre from Temple Emanuel; the Fair Street Reformed Church choir, led by Percy W. Gazlay, 2nd; the Ahavath Israel choral group, led by Larry Jacobs, choir director; and Mrs. Mary Jackson, special soprano for the First Emmanuel Church, introduced by the Rev. Reginald L. McHugh, pastor, and accompanied by the Rev. Malcom McHugh, a college student. Cantor Lohre was accompanied by Mrs. Clarence Beehler.

Plans for the March 25th meeting were also announced. Following elections, the program committee will conduct a lively "white elephant" sale. Members were urged to bring their miscellaneous items to the meeting that night or to contact any of the following persons: the Mmes. Robert Ronder, Arnold Pinsly, John Levy, Irwin Gellen or William Helmrich.

Mrs. Stanley Wyman and Mrs. Stanley Plasker have announced the names of those who aided in the four Dolls for Democracy programs which took place in February. They included the Mmes. Irwin Gellen, Harvey Semilof, Joseph Colen, Ronald Wolfield, Arthur Schiff and Albert DiBernardo.

In other happenings, 14 prospective members attended an informative tea and social held at the home of Mrs. Morton Levine. Guests included the Mmes. Al Steiner, David Weinstein, George Palfy, Ansel Malden, James Lipp, William Fields, Herbert Nelson, Robert Weitzner, John Petzold, Mitchell Carmi, Herbert Sumliner, Les Stein, Arnold Cohn and Martin Beckerman. All have been invited to attend the March 25 meeting.

In charge of the affair were the Mmes. Willard Goodheim and Arthur Schiff aided by the Mmes. Gellen, Seymour Semilof and Robert Ronder.

Mrs. Arnold Pinsly, leader for the current series of public speaking and personality development courses being offered free to members, has announced the names of a second graduating class. The first group received their diplomas last month, after three evening sessions. This month's graduates include the Mmes. Reva Stutz, Stanley Kohnberg, Jerry Cohen, David Gally, Ira Goodman, William Bookbinder and Irving Harris.

If another group of women wish to reap the benefits of such a course, Mrs. Pinsly has graciously announced that she will donate her time and efforts to leading it again. She emphasized that the work is not difficult and equal parts of fun and information are dispersed.

A board meeting has been slated for Thursday, March 19 at 8:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Jerry Cohen. Other dates on the B'nai B'rith agenda include March 25, general meeting, elections and sale; March 22, Hudson Valley Council spring conference at the Pinegrove Hotel, Kerhonkson; April 6-8, rummage sale; April 14, Career Day; and April 25, installation of officers, further plans to be announced.

Founder of Clinic in Hudson Named Speaker By Association of Social Workers; March 19

Dr. Caldwell B. Esselstyn will lead a workshop on Health and Research at thse Third Annual Institute of the Hudson Valley Chapter of the National Association of Social Workers which will be held at Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, Thursday, March 19.

Dr. Esselstyn is founder and medical director of the Rip Van Winkle Clinic in Hudson, N. Y. The clinic has branches in Canaan, Chatham, Germantown, Hudson, Kinderhook-Valatie and Philmont.

Fifteen years ago, two general practitioners, a dentist, a surgeon, and a part-time X-ray technician started the clinic in Hudson. Today, 33 full time and four part-time staff members are demonstrating the concepts on which the organization was founded:

1. Through group practice, well-trained medical men can be attracted to rural areas.

2. One way to distribute specialty care and provide comprehensive service is through the establishment of a central office and integrated clinic offices stategically located throughout the community served.

3. The indoctrination of the community in the interest of medical care can best be accomplished by integrating the clinic as another one of the community agencies.

4. The payment of total health care on a flat fee basis is practical and acceptable to both patient and doctor in a rural area.

Dr. Esselstyn is presently working with a "home care team" which is developing a service to meet medical needs of people in the Columbia County area.

Home care is a relatively new term used to describe a "team approach" in bringing various medical services, including nursing and rehabilitation, to the ill or injured in the familiar surroundings of his home. Frequently, this may enable a person to leave the hospital earlier, thus freeing a hospital bed for a more acute situation. At times, home care may make hospital or nursing home care unnecessary. This is one of the many home care programs being demonstrated throughout various areas of the United States.

Dr. Esselstyn received his undergraduate education at Yale University, post graduate education at Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons. He is now on the staff of Columbia Memorial Hospital, Hudson; Greene County Memorial Hospital, Catskill; Northern Dutchess Heayth Center, Rhinebeck and Sharon Hospital, Sharon, Connecticut.

Guild of Organists

Central Hudson Chapter, American Guild of Organists, will present a lecture by Professor Carl Parrish of Vassar College on Monday, March 16 at 8 p. m. in Skinner Recital Hall, Vassar College.

The topic will be "Hidden Symbolism in the Music of Bach."

MAY FLOWERS BE WORN STEMS UP?

Q—Is it right to wear flowers with the stems up? I think flowers should always be worn the way they grow—stems down. We arrange bouquets stems down, admire a flower holding it stem down, so why, when flowers are arranged in a corsage, stand them on their heads?

A—Flowers are generally worn with the stems pointing down, but there is no fast rule about this and they may be worn whichever way the wearer happens to think they look best.

A Pastor Greets His Congregation

Q—I have just been made pastor of a small church. I have been told that it is customary for the pastor to greet his parishioners with a handshake after services. It has always been my understanding that is it not correct for a man to extend his hand to a woman unless she extends hers first. I would like to know if this rule applies to a pastor?

A—As pastor of the church, you extend your hand spontaneously to the member of your congregation.

Showing Gratitude to Her Employer

Q—I work for an optometrist. I had to get new eye glasses recently and naturally got them from my employer. He would not accept payment. Would it be proper to buy him a small present to show my gratitude?

A—Your appreciative thanks is sufficient and I am sure all that he expects. However, if you know of some inexpensive item that he would like, it would be very nice to buy it for him.

Religious Order Considers Modern Dress for Sisters

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Changing old habits is always difficult, but that's what the Sisters of Mercy religious order is discussing.

One feature at a Chicago fashion show early this year was a short-skirted habit, proposed for the nuns of the Roman Catholic order.

In addition to shortening the skirt, the new habit simplified the veil and sported the crest of the order on the jacket.

It is unlikely that such a radical alteration will be adopted immediately, said Sister Mary Joachim, principal of the Academy of Our Lady of Mercy.

How do the sisters feel about the shorter skirts?

"We all love our habits, but we're all women," she said.

Pope Pius XII suggested several years ago that nuns might modernize their apparel to fit in better with the contemporary world.

"The world is supposed to see Christ in us," said Sister Mary Joachim, and noted that Jesus didn't dress differently from the people of his time.

She said most opposition to the short-skirt proposal came from the teen-age students. "They are used to seeing us as we are."

One order of nuns, the Sisters of the Divine Spirit, based at Mount Pocono, Pa., already wears short skirts. Their outfit is gray, not black, and has no veil, only a small cap.

But Sister Mary Joachim's prediction for her order was, "There will always be a veil."

The opponents of short skirts, she said, feel that such apparel is not as religious and dislike the sheer stockings worn with normal length skirts. More conventional shoes would also be required.

Those for the proposal argue that short skirts would stay cleaner.

Saugerties B of E Reports On Start of Construction

Annual Meeting, Election Slated

Henry Breitenbach, chairman of the Building Committee of Saugerties Board of Education, said construction of the addition to the Mt. Marion School will start immediately. The contractor, Slover, Jansen and Schline is prepared to start but, weather conditions will control activity to some extent, he said.

The parking problem was also discussed and several plans for alleviating the situation were considered. The new addition will eliminate the present parking area. In the original budget for the school, funds had been allocated to construct a new parking area. However, when the bids received exceeded the architect's estimate, the Board was forced to rearrange the budget. Parking facilities in the vicinity of the school are extremely limited and will be complicated by the workmen's cars.

To Advertise March 16

Breitenbach also announced that bids for the junior-senior Grant D. Morse Elementary School would be advertised on approximately March 16.

David Hildebrandt, superintendent of buildings and grounds, reported damage to the shop and public library, resulting from a falling tree during the ice storm.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. Dexter O. Arnold, reported that a letter from the State Education Department, Division of School Buildings and Grounds, had been received approving the Carelas Corners site at Blue Mountain for the Grant D. Morse Elementary School.

Upon nomination by the Superintendent, the following teachers were elected by the Board of Education:

Teachers Appointed

Mrs. Sally Colclough, presently on a leave of absence, to a new social studies position at the high school, beginning September. Mrs. Colclough is a graduate of Syracuse University. Her one year of experience has been at Saugerties.

Miss Elaine Balzarini as kindergarten teacher at the Mt. Marion and Glasco Schools, beginning April 6. Miss Balzarini, who will graduate from State University College at New Paltz in April, will replace Miss June Hagstrom, who has resigned from the position, effective March 25.

Mrs. Dolores LaChance, presently on leave of absence, to replace Mrs. Virginia Hancock as grade four teacher at Mt. Marion School beginning April 6.

Mrs. Hancock will go on leave of absence beginning March 25. Mrs. LaChance was also elected as a Fifth Grade teacher for the school year beginning September.

Mrs. LaChance is a graduate of State University College, Albany, and has an MS in Education from the College of St. Rose. She has had four years of teaching experience, all in Saugerties schools.

Starts in September

Miss Monica Norton, to a Third Grade position beginning September. Miss Norton will graduate from Castleton State Teachers College, Vermont in June.

Mrs. Joanne Sullivan, to teach kindergarten at the Main Street School beginning September. Mrs. Sullivan holds a BS degree from State University College at Cortland, and has studied in the graduate schools of State University College, Brockport and Rutgers University. She has had nine years of teaching experience, one of which was in Saugerties during the school year 1962, 1963.

Mrs. Barbara Hildebrandt to replace Mrs. Dorothy Lowe, high school librarian, who will retire March 22, for the remainder of the school year. Mrs. Hildebrandt is a graduate of Syracuse University and has also studied in the graduate schools of the University of Maine and the State University College, New Paltz. She has had seven years of teaching experience, five of which have been in Saugerties.

Leave Extended

William Straub, who was physical education director was granted an extension of his leave of absence to Sept. 1965. He is currently engaged in doctoral studies at University of Wisconsin.

The resignation of Miss June Hagstrom as a kindergarten teacher at Mt. Marion and Glasco Schools was accepted, effective March 25.

Business Manager Gerald Snyder was authorized to work with other Ulster County business managers in planning cooperative bidding procedures. Snyder also presented a list of corrections to the school tax roll which were approved by the board.

Board President Robert Herb explained procedures for the annual school district meeting which will be held Tuesday, May 5 at Saugerties High School Auditorium at 7:30 p. m.

The clerk was instructed to publish such notices as are required by statutes.

Election May 5

The election of school board members will be held Wednesday, May 5 at Main Street School. The polls will be open from 12 noon to 9 p. m. President Herb announced that the three-year terms of Henry P. Breitenbach, Steve Stycos, and Edwin Olson will expire at the end of the school year.

Candidates for the three Board of Education positions must file petitions containing the names of at least 25 eligible voters of the School District not later than April 22. Petition forms are available with the School District Clerk Mrs. Margaret B. Marburger, whose office is in the Administration Building, Hill Street.

A group of residents were present at the meeting and raised questions concerning the change of location of the Grant D. Morse Elementary School and the plans for handling sewage. President Herb assured them that all state requirements would be met and that engineers were presently working on plans for sewage treatment disposal.

In answer to a question about securing water for the school from the Saugerties aqueduct, President Herb said he had checked with Mayor Ziegler and the same agreement made for tapping into the village line at the Winston Farm site will apply at the Carelas Corners site. The aqueduct runs through the new school site.

The regular monthly meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary Post 150 has been changed to Thursday, March 19 at 8 p. m. at 18 West O'Reilly Street. This change in meeting date will apply to the month of March only.

A birthday party will be given in honor of the American Legion at this meeting.

Annual VFW Day At Castle Point Scheduled Sunday

The annual VFW Day at Castle Point Veterans Administration Hospital, Beacon will be observed Sunday by members of Dutchess and Ulster VFW organization.

Saugerties Memorial Post 5034 will participate with the distribution of 65 fruit baskets, candy and cookies. A Camp Fire group of Saugerties made novelty favors for each basket.

Mrs. Roy J. Potts of Cementon will provide entertainment on the piano.

Auxiliary members were asked by Mrs. John J. Prendergast, hospital chairman to meet 9 a. m. Saturday at VFW Hall to prepare the baskets.

Those requiring transportation to the hospital on Sunday may meet at the VFW Hall at 1 p. m.

Reformed Church Slates Activities

Passion Sunday in the Lenten season will be observed at Saugerties Reformed Church at the 11 a. m. service Sunday with the Rev. Orville Jay Hine preaching the sermon entitled "The Passion of Christ." A nursery for little children is held in the chapel during each worship service for the convenience of parents.

Music at the service will be by the senior choir singing the anthem entitled "Come Ye Blessed" by Scott. Miss Mildred Newkirk will sing the solo entitled "He That Keepeth Israel."

At the 9:45 a. m. session of the Sunday church school, the 4th grade class, with Mrs. James Kellerhouse as teacher, will lead the opening worship. There are Classes for all age groups beginning with the pre-school children of the Sunday church school. A newly organized adult study class meets during the church school session with Walter Karch as teacher.

Youth Fellowship will meet 7:15 p. m. in the parish hall for a very short meeting after which they will attend the cantata that will be presented in the church at 7:30 p. m. The young people have planned a roller skating party this Saturday and will meet at the church 6:45 p. m. for transportation to the Cairo roller rink.

The young people of Flatbush Reformed Church have been invited to attend. Lloyd Loop and Miss Beverly Kellerhouse, youth advisors, will accompany the young people.

Women's Guild for Christian Service have planned a family night covered dish supper for all members of the church Monday at 6:30 p. m. Each family will bring a covered dish. The Rev. Mr. Hine will show pictures taken during his work in Panama to illustrate some of the causes of the recent disturbances of the Canal Zone and Panama.

Delegates from Saugerties Reformed Church will attend the meeting of the Classis of Ulster at the Fair Street Reformed Church Tuesday 5:30 p. m.

The consistory of the church will meet Wednesday at the home of Stuart Buchan, 5 Hemlock Court.

The choir will rehearse in the parish hall Thursday 7:15 p. m. under the direction of Howard Houghtaling. Special music is being planned for Holy Week and Easter.

St. Mary's P-TA To Hear Speaker At Sunday Session

The Rev. George St. John, principal of St. Patrick's Central Catholic High School in Catskill, will speak to the Parent-Teacher Association of St. Mary of the Snow school in conjunction with a full business meeting Sunday 7:30 p. m. in the school cafeteria.

Before assuming his present position in 1960, Father St. John was diocesan director of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine for the Albany Diocese. His general topic will be education.

During the business meeting a report will be heard from James Garde, chairman of the committee on proposed constitutional changes. The committee, also consisting of Perry Bunyar and Dominic Crane, is expected to make recommendations on the subject of trustees, according to P-TA president Warren Martin.

Parents of children attending St. Mary's School are invited to attend by the principal, Sister Mary Leo and President Martin. Refreshments will be served by a committee of fifth grade mothers.

C of C to Meet

The regular meeting of Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce will be held Tuesday 8:30 p. m. at R. A. Snyder Fire Company rooms of the municipal building. An advertising forum will be held at 7:30 p. m. prior to the regular meeting. Additional plans for the annual dinner Monday, April 20 at the Flamingo will be discussed. Clifford A. Allison of the New York State Retail Merchants Association will be the guest speaker.

Rummage Sales

Immaculate Conception

The Immaculate Conception Mothers' Club will sponsor a rummage sale the week of April 13 at 368 Broadway.

Mothers are asked to donate articles for sale on the 13th or contact Joan Wojciechowski or Frances Scafidi.

CONGRATULATE MAN OF YEAR—Edward M. Flanagan, named the most distinguished citizen of Saugerties in 1963 by the Jaycees was honored by more than 150 at a testimonial dinner Thursday night at the Flamingo Restaurant. Flanagan, (center) receives congratulations and plaque from George Leombruno, Jaycees president, and Robert Schnell, (right) dinner chairman. Saugerties Superintendent of Schools Dexter O. Arnold, who served as toastmaster introduced the four previous man of the year award winners, Vernon Joe Benjamin, Peter Pocalyko, who came here by plane from Washington, D. C. for the event; Donald S. Fellows, and Nathan A. Aaron, last year's winner. Frederick H. Stang, former Kingston mayor was the guest speaker. Entertainment followed the program.. (Freeman photo)

Students See Film on Smoking

A program sponsored by the American Cancer Society, Ulster County Unit, and the IBM Science Lecture Series was presented to approximately 600 students at the J. Watson Baily School Thursday. A film "Is Smoking Worth It?" was shown which presented facts about the causal relationship between cigarette smoking and lung cancer. Dr. Herbert F. Schwartz, specialist in chest diseases, and Dr. Milton M. Grover, Jr., radiologist at the Benedictine Hospital, guest speakers, led a lively question and answer period following the film showing. Dr. Grover also showed X-rays on the viewer to demonstrate the changes that develop in lung cancer.

With the cooperation of Stephen Hyatt, principal of the Baily School, the program was coordinated through the efforts of Larry Rittmiller, staff chemist at IBM, Al Arcus, member of the Mid-Hudson Science Advisory Association, Robert Boyle, head of the science department of the secondary schools in the Kingston Consolidated System, and Mrs. Paul J. Wendrow, executive secretary of the local ACS unit.

KHS Reunion Group Meeting on Monday

A meeting of the Kingston High School Reunion Committee, class of 1944, will be held on Monday, March 16 at 8 p. m. in the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Most of the class members have received a questionnaire form in the mail and it is requested it be returned as soon as possible.

Any member who has not received this questionnaire is asked to contact Elmore Yallum or Carilyn Myer Richardson.

Much assistance is still needed with final preparations and it is hoped that all interested members of the class will make an effort to attend this meeting.

It happened at revival service. After the sermon the revivalist started his exhortations for sinners to come to the mourners' bench. He was going strong, and finally a little, weazened woman, past seventy, went tottering down the aisle. The preacher saw her coming.

Revivalist — Thank God for grandma.

Voice (from the back of the church) — Grandma's an old maid.

The toastmaster insisted on making a speech; then he thought it necessary to introduce two or three other "prominent" citizens, and each of these made "extended remarks." Finally, with the audience tired and the hour late, the speaker who had been engaged for the principal address of the evening was introduced. The toastmaster took it upon himself to make a long-winded introduction, but concluded by saying,

Toastmaster — We will now have the address of the distinguished gentleman.

The speaker arose and said:

Speaker—My address is 2240 Lockwood Avenue. Good night.

An elderly lady entered a shop and asked to be shown some tablecloths. The salesman brought a pile and showed them to her, but she said she had seen those elsewhere—nothing suited her.

Elderly Lady — Haven't you something new?

Salesman—These are the newest pattern. You will notice the edge runs right round the border and the center is in the middle.

Elderly Lady—Dear me, yes. I will take half a dozen of those.

Overlook Methodist Church Is Allocated Building Grant

The New York Conference Church Extension Section of the Board of Missions of the Methodist Church has allocated an $8,000 grant to Overlook Methodist Church of Woodstock and a low interest loan of $16,000, it was announced by Rev. George P. Werner, District Superintendent.

The grant and loans were made from the Conference Development Crusade Funds. Also receiving assistance was the Port Ewen Methodist Church for its projected educational unit, a grant of $3,000 and a low interest loan of $3,000.

The Grace Church Ravena new church building project had previously received a grant and loan from this same Section which administers the Crusade church extension funds.

Site in Bearsville

Start of construction of the new Overlook Methodist parish church is tentatively scheduled for this year. The Rev. James W. Cook, minister, said today, however, that plans are indefinite at this stage. The church will be built on a four-acre site fronting on Route 212 on the Bearsville Flats near the Woodstock bowling lanes.

The 13-man building committee of the Overlook Church, headed by Earl Jones as chairman, has already approved preliminary sketches of the basic design of the new church. It was scheduled to meet last night with the architect, Arthur Silver of New York City.

Gil Pearson Buys Half Interest in CountyTownsman

Sale of half interest in the Ulster County Townsman, a weekly published in Woodstock, was announced today by Mrs. Marian Umhey, publisher.

Gilbert Pearson, a well known political commentator, of Woodstock, has purchased the half interest from Mrs. Kiki Godwin. The sale becomes effective immediately.

Mrs. Umhey and Mrs. Godwin have published the Townsman for the past several years. It has earned wide recognition as the only newspaper in New York State edited and published wholly by women.

Pearson, who resides on Manor Drive, has had wide experience in the newspaper field, having operated a string of weeklies in Texas in the post-war period. He is also a newspaper cartoonist. He was at one time a regular columnist in the Townsman and covered the last two Woodstock political campaigns for the newspaper.

Mrs. Umhey will be News Editor and Publisher and Pearson will be the managing editor under the new setup. Mrs. Sharon Chevren will serve as advertising director and staff writer.

Ben Johnson Has New Agent, The Gallery 63

The Gallery 63, Inc. of New York City has announced that it will be the sole agent for Woodstock's prominent artist, Ben Johnson, who resides on Broadview Road.

Commenting on Johnson's work, Gerald Dorset, assistant to the director of Gallery 63, said:

"A calm and reticent figurative painter, Ben Johnson has nothing in common with the main current of present realism, nor with the reality of a Philip Evergood or the sarcasm of a Ben Shahn. Well established as a master of the nude, he had arraived to certain pictorial solutions of the Japanese artists. The simplicity and elegance of line and form in his paintings is indicative of this.

"The nudes of Ben Johnson, seated, lying or standing, facing the artist, with their back to him, or in profile, are filled with a sense of own dignity and quiet contentment. Their heads crowned by huge hats almost create a separate pattern by themselves, enhancing the softness and vitality of the vibrant flesh. There is some kind of sensuality very mental in substance typical of this artist.

"In the paintings of Ben Johnson one could detect distant relationship to the work of Marie Laurencin and some well utilized lessons of the "Fauves" and the surrealists. But whichever his artistic ancestors, his artistic achievements are authentic, individual and praiseworthy."

St. John's Sets Dinner-Dance

The annual spring dinner-dance of St. John's Roman Catholic Parish will be held at Deanie's in Woodstock on Saturday, April 4, Monsignor Austin V. Carey, pastor, has announced. The parish includes St. John's of West Hurley, St. Joan of Arc, Woodstock, and St. Augustine, Shokan.

Tickets may be obtained at the respective churches following Mass on Sunday or from the dinner committee: Dr. Edmund Tomaselli, Woodstock, chairman; Vito Di Benedetto, Bearsville; Daniel Fochi, West Hurley; and George McNamara, Shokan.

Wendell (Speed) Scherer and his orchestra will play for dancing from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. Prizes will be awarded. Advance reservations are urged as this is always a sellout affair.

Harness Racing Growth Traced For Rotarians

Harness racing has progressed through the years to the point where it is now the most rapidly growing spectator sport in the world, William F. Connolly of Saratoga Springs told members of the Woodstock Rotary Club this week.

Connolly, public relations director for Saratoga Raceway and one of the best known men in the field, told the Rotarians that improvement in the methods and skills of trainers and drivers has contributed greatly to the progress of the sport.

He also touched briefly on the history and beauty of the Saratoga Raceway setup and issued an invitation to the club to attend a night racing program this summer at Saratoga.

Among the highlights of Connolly's presentation, it was noted that harness racing is often considered a Johnny-come-lately sport. Actually, he noted, harness racing has been traced back to the dawn of recorded history. Baked clay tablets, unearthed in Asia Minor, carry a comprehensive treatise on horse training for speed at the trot. These were written in 1350 B.C.

Show Trotting Film

A native of Johnstown, Connolly brought an extensive background to his speech. In addition to his public relations post at Johnstown, he is also a sportswriter and commentator, national vice president of the United States Harness Writers Association for six years and a charter member and past president of the Saratoga Chapter of the association. He has been associated with the Raceway for three years.

A movie, "Fire Away" was shown at the close of the talk. The film was a 16mm version of Paramount Pictures' award winning short subject on a boy and his trotter, filmed on location at Saratoga Raceway.

The Rotary has announced a bus trip to the Worlds Fair on Saturday, June 6. The trip is open to adults and children and the price of the bus trip will include price of admission to the fair. Further details will be announced later.

At its next meeting, March 16, Rotary will observe World Understanding Week and will have as its guest Dudley Hudson, formerly of Jamaica, B.W.I., who will speak on the recent independence of that country.

League Urges Public Support On Voters Bill

Members and guests of the Woodstock League of Women Voters were treated to an interesting and full evening last Wednesday. At this time of year all over the country, local Leaguers are busy planning the program for the next two years which will be finally decided on at the National Convention in Pittsburgh next month.

At their meeting, members of the Woodstock League voted to go along with the program proposed by the National Board including a new current agenda item: Equality of Opportunity and continuing of studies of the United Nations; Foreign Economic Policy; and Water Resources. Continuing responsibilities would include support of self-government for citizens of the District of Columbia, opposition to constitutional limitations on tax rates and opposition to limit existing powers over treaty-making.

There followed a "Workshop meeting" by the Local Item Study group covering the problems concerning establishment of a sewer district, construction of sidewalks, establishment of a town dump and writing of a Zoning Ordinance.

Local Studies

Two study items were suggested for next year's local current agenda: The Zoning Ordinance and a study to provide adequate facilities for the youth of Woodstock. Mallory Grove would be retained as a continuing responsibility.

Further suggestions from the membership are now being received and may be sent to Mrs. Alvin E. Moscowitz, 47 Glasco Turnpike, Woodstock. Certain criteria are used for choosing program:

1. Does it come within the principles of the League?
2. Is it a problem which can be met through local government?
3. Is it timely?
4. Can the League do something about it?

An item will be adopted as a Continuing Resposibility if:

1. In case of a new CR, is there member agreement on the position?
2. If already on program, is there still agreement?
3. Are developments in the next few years likely to require action?

Performing Arts Are Readying First Offerings

The Performing Arts of Woodstock, a newly formed group in the township, announces that it is moving rapidly toward its appointment with the public. Its upcoming curtain raisers, two one act plays, will be Aria de Capo by Edna St. Vincent Millay and The Audience, an original by Daniel Klein.

All professional, amateur, would-be, male and female actors and tech men who wish to participate are invited to tryout readings on Monday and Tuesday (March 16-17) at 8:30 p. m. The readings will be held at the home of John and Edith LeFevre, Witchtree Road, Woodstock. Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. LeFever.

Six well-known Woodstock personalities are identified with the Performing Arts movement. They include Mrs. LeFever, chairman; Jack Burton, vice president; Eda Crist, secretary; Gloria Criscimagna, treasurer; Alex Osina, Sonia Malkine and Amber Wetterau.

The group emphasizes that all persons interested in the performing arts are invited to join the group.

The organization has taken steps to incorporate and is also looking for permanent headquarters.

Sturgeon Speaks At Onteora P-TA

Some unprecedented advice for a parent-teacher group will be forthcoming when Theodore Sturgeon, well known author, addresses the Onteora High School P-TA meeting Tuesday, March 17, at 8 p. m. in the high school cafeteria.

The intriguing title for Sturgeon's address is "Communication—or How to Decode Husbands and Other Mysteries." Although he is famous as an author in the science-fiction field, Ted, as he is popularly known in and around Woodstock, has found time to work for and with his community.

Much of the credit for rejuvenating the local P-TA belongs to Sturgeon. He has also acted as a trustee and writer for the Woodstock Foundation, has been active in his church. He and his equally talented and attractive wife are raising four active and talented children. He still finds time to speak at a meeting or write a last-minute review of some local happening with wit and grace.

Sturgeon's seemingly effortless talks, interspersed with humor, always hold a great deal of wisdom and good advice. An excellent program is anticipated and the public is invited.

The Jenkins Memorial Award will be presented that evening to some person who has given outstanding service to the youth of the school district. A slate of P-TA officers for the coming year will also be presented and nominations from the floor will be in order. The meeting will close with an informal refreshment-conversation period.

League Planning Its Program for Next Two Years

The Woodstock chapter of the League of Women Voters has issued a statement urging support of the Anderson-Passannante Resolution proposing an amendment to Section I, Article II of the New York State Constitution, in relation to qualification of voters.

The amendment would simplify the language regarding voter qualification in the State Constitution and reduce the residency requirement for all persons to a safe minimum of no less than 90 days in the state, county, city or village for all elections, not only for presidential ones as was passed in last fall's election.

Failure to pass this resolution now will push back the earliest date for this to appear on the ballot as an amendment to 1967 (it must be approved by two different Legislatures). Meanwhile many more voters will continue to be denied the privilege of taking part in the election of their local and state officials and their representatives in Congress because they have not been able to meet the restrictive and outmoded residence requirements now in effect.

The Legislature is nearing adjournment, so don't delay your letters! Write to Sen. E. O. Bush, Senate Chambers, Albany; and Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, Assembly Chamber, Albany, urging their support for the Anderson-Passannante Resolution.

Dear Abby . . .

A Sadly Mistaken Child!

Abigail Van Buren

I am 16 years old and five months pregnant. The father of my baby is marrying me pretty soon, but neither of us wants the baby. We can't afford it and, besides, I don't want to stay married to this boy the rest of my life. (Just long enough to have the baby.) I am wondering if one of your readers wants a baby. If they pay my hospital bill, they can have mine.

MADE A MISTAKE

DEAR MADE: Get in touch with your Family Service Agency, or a reputable adoption agency. They conduct a thorough investigation of all applicants who wish to adopt babies in order to assure the babies of good homes. You've already made one mistake. I urge you not to make another by handing over your baby as you would a puppy or a kitten to anyone who has a few dollars.

* * * * *

DEAR ABBY: I am 14 and I hate school. How do I get kicked out?

SICK OF SCHOOL

DEAR SICK: School haters need advice on how to stay in, not on how to get kicked out. Stay with it. You'll recover.

* * * * *

DEAR ABBY: Why do all the little sawed-off runts ask tall women for dates? I am a woman who is 5' 8", and it seems that all the runty men want to date me. I have gone out with men half a head shorter than myself because I didn't know how to turn them down without hurting their feelings. Don't they realize that a woman feels ridiculous walking down the street with a man who is shorter than herself? Please put this in your column, Abby, so those little squirts will pick on someone their own size.

LIKE 'EM TALL

DEAR LIKES: It may surprise you to learn that not all women share your point of view. A short man who asks a tall woman for a date is paying her a great compliment. He assumes that she has the intelligence to measure a man for what he is—not for how much of him there appears to be.

More Than Eighty Cub Scout Leaders Attend Training

More than 80 Cub Scout leaders from all corners of the Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, gathered recently for the annual Cubbers' Pow-Wow. This training event, which is for all adult cub leaders, was held again this year at the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Wurts and Rogers Streets.

The event was sponsored by the Council's Training Committee. Dr. Clement Angstrom, chairman of the Kingston District, served as chairman of the Pow-Wow.

Several Sessions Held

The Pow-Wow is the "fun-way" of presenting cub training, and offered several different sessions for the cub leaders. Always the highlight of the Pow-Wow, the handicraft section, a favorite with the den mothers, offered instruction in craftswork related to the cub themes for the coming year.

This year's handicraft section was under the direction of Mrs. Michael Larkin, formerly a den mother with Pack 26 of Port Ewen. Her assistants were Betty Stenson and Catherine Cranston of Pack 3, Kingston; Mrs. John Fitzpatrick of Pack 36, Saugerties; Shirley Wase and Virginia Post, Pack 41, Catskill; Gloria Elston, Pack 16, Stone Ridge; Ann Kirkpatrick, Pack 10, Kingston; and Ruth Latz, Louise Cornish and Bernice Pritchard of Pack 26, Port Ewen.

The session on skits, puppets and ceremonies was under the direction of Harry Slobodian, roundtable commissioner for Saugerties District. He was assisted by several scouts from Troops 32 and 130 of Saugerties.

Pack Administration, which is a session on the management of a cub pack's administrative matters, was handled by William Poythress, neighborhood commissioner in Saugerties District, assisted by Addison Burch, also of the Saugerties commissioner staff, and William Winslow of Pack 3 in Kingston.

Games Outlined

Games for Cub Scouts section was instructed by Robert Tremper, roundtable commissioner, Kingston District. He was assisted by Ronald C. Latz, assistant cubmaster of Pack 26 in Port Ewen. This session concerned itself with the many different kinds and types of games for various types of situations, as well as how to teach and use games in den and pack meetings.

Refreshments at the coffee-break time were provided under the supervision of John Carlson, Sougerties Distrit commissioner, assisted by Charles A. Hudson, cubmaster of Pack 32, Saugerties.

At the close of the training sessions, the chairman held a brief closing assembly, at which time training certificates were presented to all trainees. Attendance at a Pow-Wow is one of the requirements for earning the cubmaster's key and the den mother's award.

The regular club duplicate was over and as usual the professor had won. The student was checking over the scores and noted that the professor was minus 650 on a hand on which everyone else was minus either 680 or 1,430.

The student got hold of the professor and said, "Usually you have something to do with your top scores. This time it seems that you had the good fortune to be defending against a player who had never learned how to finesse."

The professor replied, "You are quite correct in noting that South refused to try a trump finesse, but strangely enough I can take credit for his failure to do so and for my top score."

Do you know how the professor gave South the problem that resulted in South banging the ace of spades instead of finessing?

The professor had won the first trick with the ace of diamonds and after looking around for new worlds to conquer saw that there was no hope at all. With normal play, South would surely gather in the rest of the tricks.

Now put yourself in South's position. Wouldn't it look as if the professor had led a singleton heart? South thought so anyway. So he decided to lay down the ace of spades and make sure of his contract.

ACCORD NEWS

ACCORD—Mrs. Jennie Barley was given a birthday party at her home Thursday, March 5 to celebrate her 84th year, with 15 relatives and friends present.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Sondak announced the birth of their second grandchild, a girl, Mindy Robin to their daughter, Doris, and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Wergiles of Forest Hills, Tuesday, March 3. Their first grandchild, a boy, Mark, is the son of their daughter Arlene and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Krieger of Riverdale.

Mrs. Rose McGuffey of Kerhonkson is improving gradually from a recent illness. Her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Charles McGuffey has been staying with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Friedberg commemorated their 29th wedding anniversary Monday evening with their son, Albert and daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Goodstein of Ellenville.

Al Redwood, Berlin Wright and M. Palmer attended the installation of the Masons Wednesday evening at Ellenville. Their wives spent the evening with Mrs. Anita Brown and daughter, Lillian of Wawarsing.

Mrs. Alfred Weigert has been a patient at the Benedictine Hospital of Kingston for observation and treatment for the past week and may be home in a few days.

Thirty-six Cubs of Den 6 of Accord with their parents and family were among the 225 that attended the Blue and Gold dinner Thursday, Feb. 27 at the Kerhonkson Firehall. Their table was decorated with a large picture of a wolf drawn by Walter Troin, surrounded by blue baby hyacinths; also blue napkin rings were on the table decorated with a wolf head and Den 6. The boys presented each of their mothers with a corsage of yellow daffodils with a blue ribbon. Five of the boys received awards. They were Claude Ford, a wolf badge, a one year pin, bear badge and a two year pin; Kevin Roxbury, Mark Countryman, Ronald Hall and Myron Avery each received a wolf badge and a one year pin. The den mothers are Mrs. Claude Ford and Mrs. Ann Depuy.

Pfc. William Smith of Fort Carson, Colo., will leave Friday after spending his furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Smith.

Benedictine Hospital Shows More Service as Years Pass

From statistics just released at a recent meeting of the Benedictine Hospital Advisory Board, Edwin Bolz, co-administrator, stated that generally, services rendered by the hospital continued to climb to new heights. In some departments it was a meteoric rise.

The total number of in and out patients treated during 1963 was 16,792. This was an increase of 1,780 over 1962. Total number of in-patient care days for 1963 was 62,170. The cost per patient day however, increased from $32.55 in 1962 to $37.15 in 1963. This increase generally reflects the entire financial structure for 1963, as the audited financial statistics indicate a vividly dramatic increase in expenses.

Operating Deficit $50,989

After a deduction of $262,450.88 for free work, welfare allowances and bad debts, the net operating income was $1,990,746.56. Total operating expenses for the year 1963 amounted to $2,041,735.92. The operating deficit for 1963 was $50,989.36 compared to an operating income og $99,791.89 in 1962.

After an addition of $101,536.21 for supplementary income and a deduction for expenses such as interest on bonds and depreciation of buildings and equipment of $127,722.188, the net deficit for the twelve month period ending December 31, 1963 was $77,175.33. This is in contrast to $49,042.97 income for 1962.

Mr. Bolz pointed out that a good portion of the Benedictine's expenses ($2,041,735.92) for 1963 unequivocally contributed to the support of the local economy. The Benedictine Hospital had a large stake in local business activities, with $755,358.57 spent for supplies, repairs and other miscellaneous items. Furthermore the $1,286,377.35 paid out to employes for salaries during 1963, was in turn used for food, clothing, shelter and other miscellaneous items.

Increased Facilities

He further stated that in order to accomodate the increase in services, it was imperative that the hospital increase it facilities.

A new and larger Emergency Room was built which increased facilities from a one bed to a three bed unit. The Emergency Room was fully air-conditioned and equipped with the very newest in equipment and supplies to assure prompt and adequate service under any emergency. The old Emergency Room was converted into a public waiting room.

The bed complement of the hospital was increased another four beds. The new bed complement is now 184 adult beds and 30 newborn bassinets. This increase was made possible by alterations and conversion of the former floor pantries and the moving of the Nursing Department office.

The largest patient area in the hospital — North Wing, second floor — experienced a renovation other than in the patient room area, with the enlargement of the nurses' station.

Service Awards Made

The entire dishwashing operation of the hospital was redesigned and a more efficient machine was installed to accommodate any increased demand which might be necessitated by hospital expansion.

"Of course, it takes more than equipment to run a hospital — it takes people, and plenty of them. And we at the Benedictine strive for the best," Mr. Bolz said. At the Third Annual Employe Recognition Day, employes completing five, 10, 15, 20, 25 and more years of service received awards of U. S. Government Bonds, citations and pins.

Auxiliary Contributions

A total of 6,331 volunteer hours were given by the Women's Auxiliary and the Junior Volunteers on the following projects: TV rental, baby photo, gift shop, sales cart, desk service, Junior Volunteers and decorating and hospitality programs. The Auxiliary donated cardiac monitors and scopes, costing $2,740, to be used in the Operating Rooms of the hospital.

The Benedictine Hospital School of Nursing was again accredited by the New York State Department of Education for a period of five years. The school has always qualified for this accreditation in the past.

Planning for Future

In anticipation of future needs, the hospital firm of Ferrenz and Taylor was commissioned to prepare preliminary plans necessary to fulfill the requirements of the Hill-Burton Authority. They were also commissioned to sketch a long term plan of future expansion for the hospital.

The Benedictine Hospital board of directors, through the administration, has thanks for the members of the medical staff, advisory board, Women's Auxiliary and hospital employes for another example of a combined effort to bring the best medical care to the public of Kingston and the Ulster Co. area.

Thanks were expressed to all those who have contributed their time and effort as well as money to the hospital, to the City Administration, departments of fire, police and public works, as well as the local newspapers and radio stations. Without the help and understanding of all mentioned another year of progress could not have been recorded.

Still Some Openings In Appliance Course

Registration for the course in appliance repair offered by the Adult Education Department of the Kingston schools, took place this week.

There is still room for additional persons to enroll. The class is to help train appliance service men for appliance dealers. This year refrigerators will be the main appliance to be repaired. Last year washing machines were used in the class and may be repeated if there is demand for it.

Anyone interested in the new course may register in the Vocational Building of the high school either in person or by phone during the regular school day.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

NEW YORK (AP) — Mid-March is the busiest time of the year for a pretty, red-haired young singer — Carmel Quinn, once of Dublin and now a Leonia, N.J., housewife and mother. She has established the relationship to St. Patrick's Day that Lucy Monroe once had to "The Star Spangled Banner."

"We — I — get literally hundreds of invitations to appear on the great day," said Miss Quinn, in a brogue untouched by American inflection. "Some of the biggest clubs of the country want me for the whole week and there are always special affairs in honor of the Saint."

Although all television variety shows to be seen around the Irish holiday automatically are colored green and sing of leprechauns and shamrocks, Miss Quinn will be visible only on one: Ed Sullivan's program Sunday night.

On the great day itself next Tuesday, she will be singing some Irish songs on Arthur Godfrey's morning radio show. This is as it should be: she was launched on her career as a contestant on Godfrey's old "Talent Scouts" television program, and was immediately signed as a member of his professional television and radio "family."

Carmel is the wife of Bill Fuller, from County Kerry, an entertainment promoter specializing in Irish ballrooms. They have three young children, and Carmel carefully rations her time—75 per cent for home and family; 25 for her professional career.

"Missing Links" will move from NBC to ABC at the end of the month, but without its host, Ed McMahon. The easy-mannered big fellow was available—but ABC apparently feels it must use Dick Clark on the show because it has him under contract for the soon-to-die "The Object Is," and will have to pay him whether or not he works.

Tonight — "The President Vanishes," CBS, 7:30-8:30 (EST), drama of the "Great Adventure" series about Grover Cleveland's mysterious disappearance—to undergo surgery.

Saturday — "The Hollywood Palace," ABC, 9:30-10:30 p.m.—Morey Amsterdam and Rosemarie of "The Dick Van Dyke Show" co-hosts.

A BUDDING STAR. The three photos, taken by staff photographer Milton Wagenfohr, show 4-year-old David Ferraro as he approaches the foul line, throws the ball down the alley and then follows through with his shot. Notice the straight stance as the youngster starts his concentration. In the middle photo, observe the unique style he has in throwing the eight-pound ball. In the final photo, David's follow through might be copied by some of today's established keglers. His right arm is well on the alley and away from his body. He is bent low and his left arm is out so that he can hold his balance. (Freeman photos)

Four-Year Old David Ferraro Is Bowler and Also Instructor

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Move over you top ranking ten pin stars. There's going to be a novice in your ranks, and maybe quicker than you think.

His name is David Ferraro and though he's only reached the ripe old age of four, this youngster appears to be more mature than some of the veterans who have been knocking down the pins for years. David won't be five until June.

The son of Jack and the grandson of John Ferraro, young David would be a perfect ad for the television cameras. He throws the ball with gusto, gives out with the antics, including even getting to one knee and talks about the game as if he were a pro performer. Even the magic lantern would be surprised at the bowling "lingo" this lad uses.

David Ferraro weighs only 40 pounds soaking wet. He started to bowl about a year ago and uses an eight pound ball, drilled especially for him by his father.

Many boys at this age can't even lift a knife and fork, not alone a bowling ball. Believe it or not, David practices a little each day and averages between 80 and 100. Several weeks ago, he threw a triple and finished with a 158 game. If that doesn't make we "hackers" jealous, nothing will.

Helps the Ladies

Not only is David a bowler, he also fancies himself an instructor. On nights when mom (Lorraine) is bowling, you might find him observing and then giving some hints as to what she or other women might be doing wrong.

Because he tips the scales at 40 pounds, David can't throw the ball down the alley with just one hand. This doesn't phase him. He uses both hands and "pushes" the ball towards the head pin.

Issues A Challenge

His improvement has been such that David is now ready to meet brother Steve (10 years old) in a head-to-head match, complete with a telescore. Though Steve has an average near 175, this doesn't bother younger brother. "I can beat Stevie," he remarks.

David has picked up many of the expressions of the bowlers. Dad recalls the time he took David to Middletown to watch the Utica Club eliminations. David walked into the lanes, clamly inspected them and asked, in all seriousness, "how are the alleys running today."

Only recently, David was having some trouble picking up spares. However, he knew the solution to his problem. He told Dad that his ball didn't fit on the fingers because, "it needs three white dots on it." The job was done and David's average picked up once again.

Lou Campi, the well-known television star, was a guest at this year's opening of the KBA tournament. Maybe Campi was the guest, but it was David who stole the show. As a matter of fact, the way Campi and Jack Ferraro rolled in the pre-tournament exhibition game, maybe David should have been included in the match.

Though he is forced to throw the ball with both hands, the youngster has the knack of knowing where to stand when shooting spares.

A Crowd Pleaser

The bigger the crowd, the better he likes it. You might see him with the big follow through and then the kneeling down on one knee, guiding the ball to the 1-3 pocket.

There's now something new in the life of David Ferraro. He has his own bowling shirt with his name printed in large white letters across the back.

If you're at the Bowlerama some day and he doesn't have the shirt on, you still can't miss the youngster. Just follow the crowd.

Wings Top Leafs, Near Third Place

DETROIT (AP) — Gordie Howe and Norm Ullman are doing their best to land the Detroit Red Wings in third place in the National Hockey League standings.

The Red Wings again pulled within two points of elusive Toronto with a 2-1 victory over Boston Thursday night on goals by Ullman and Howe.

A third place finish is worth about $500 per player. This is twice as much as each player on the fourth place team can expect to receive.

Eagles Sign Evans To Assist Kuharich

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Dick Evans, defensive line coach with the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League, has been signed to fill the same position with the Philadelphia Eagles, it was announced Thursday by Coach Joe Kuharich.

He was released from his Cleveland contract "with great reluctance" said Art Modell, Browns' president. Evans coached the Browns for four seasons.

PULLMAN, Wash. (NEA) — With Jim Clark taking over at Washington State, former Oklahoma players now are head coaches at three major Pacific northwest schools within a football's throw of one another.

The others are, of course, Jim Owens at Washington and Dee Andros at Idaho. Clark formerly assisted Owens at Washington. The three played together in 1949 under Bud Wilkinson.

UCLA, San Francisco Risk Big Winning Streaks Tonight

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

UCLA and San Francisco risk college basketball's longest current winning streaks tonight and the Bruins and the Dons hope the Friday the 13th jinx won't knock them out of the NCAA championship tournament.

Unbeaten UCLA, top-ranked in the final Associated Press poll of the season, will try for its 27th straight against Seattle in the Far West Regionals at Corvallis, Ore. San Francisco goes for its 19th in a row against Utah State at the same place.

Kansas State and Princeton also will try to extend respectable winning streaks as the NCAA takes over the spotlight after the victories of NYU and St. Joseph's, Pa., in Thursday night's opening of the NIT in New York. NYU defeated Syracuse 77-68 and St. Joseph's beat Miami of Florida 86-76.

K-State goes after its 12th straight against Texas Western in the Midwest Regional at Wichita, Kan., and Princeton strives for its 10th in a row against Connecticut in the East Regional at Raleigh, N.C.

Kentucky Plays

Rounding out the second round play in the NCAA tonight is Duke vs. Villanova at Raleigh, Wichita vs. Creighton at Wichita, and Kentucky vs. Ohio Univ and Michigan vs. Chicago Loyola, the defending champion, in the Mideast Regional at Minneapolis.

Loyola, No. 8 in the AP poll, and Texas Western each have won seven straight and their play against second-ranked Michigan and Kansas State will be watched with interest. Michigan and Kentucky, fourth-ranked, both were defeated in their last regular season games.

The Duke-Villanova clash, like Michigan - Loyola, involves teams in the AP Top Ten. Duke is No. 3 and Villanova No. 7. Their game shapes up as one of the best, along with the ones at Corvallis. Utah State upset Arizona State and Seattle surprised Oregon State in Tuesday's first round.

Duke has won six straight like Creighton which hopes to overcome Wichita and All-America Dave Stallworth.

Barry Scores 35

Steve Courtin, Billy Oakes and Jim Boyle combined for 69 points to offset Rick Barry's 35 as St. Joseph's whipped Miami in the NIT. Similarly Happy Hairston and Barry Kramer combined 49 points offset Dave Bing's 31 in NYU's triumph over Syracuse.

Evansville and Akron won the semifinals of the NCAA small college tourney at Evansville and will meet for the championship tonight. Evansville defeated State College of Iowa 82-67 and Akron beat North Carolina A&T 57-48.

Pan American of Texas, the defending champion, moved into tonight's semifinals of the NAIA tourney at Kansas City by defeating Mansfield, Pa., 82-69. Rockhurst, Emporia State and Carson - Newman also advanced to the round of four.

A Moving Man

Pedro Oliva-Twin Who Makes Minnesota Mele See Doubles

BY SAM MELE
(Minnesota Twins' Manager)

As told to Harry Grayson NEA Sports Editor.

Jimmie Hall's name wasn't on the roster a year ago, but it wasn't long before he was playing center field and setting an American League record for a first-year man with 33 home runs. He is a sound ballplayer who batted his way to the top.

Jimmie Hall

It's Pedro's Turn

Now it's Pedro Oliva's turn and I am confident that this stringy, 23-year-old Cuban will make it big at the first asking.

Oliva, a line drive lefthand batter whose weakness is a two-base hit, has smacked all types of pitching in the low and high minors as well as AL pitching in late-season appearances. He had 23 homers and 74 runs-batted-in, hitting .304 for Dallas-Fort Worth and hit .429 in seven games with the Twins at the end of the season. His outfielding has improved. He runs well.

This is why Bob Allison is working at first base. He may have to switch from right field to make room for Oliva's big bat.

Led Team Hitting

The Twins led the league in home runs with 225 and in team batting with .255, but that was not enough as distance hitting outfits have discovered before. All games are won on defense. That is where we fell short in 1963, partly because walking wounded prevented us from keeping the infield intact. Anyway, we finished eighth in fielding and sixth in double plays.

A consoling thought is that I know our infield, with Allen at second base, Versalles at short and Rollins at third, can make all the plays. They demonstrated that in 1962, when we were second in fielding and led the league in double killings.

I am going to work on cutting down our 912 strikeouts of last year. While most sluggers are strikeout-prone, Killebrew, Allison and Hall have swings which should spell higher averages without reducing their home run threat.

I want them to concentrate more on meeting the ball. It will go far enough if they just get a piece of it. They get behind pitchers waiting for a pitch they can hit out of sight. Their averages would soar if they would hit the ball where it is pitched.

Gets Overanxious

Killebrew is inclined to be overanxious. Harmon gets in a groove where he wants to pull everything. I would like to see him go with the pitch and hit away. That is what he was doing during a remarkable streak in 1962. He was hitting to right and center field as well as to left. It was during this run that Mickey Mantle of the Yankees called him the finest looking hitter he had seen.

The Twins were retarded by injuries in 1963. We had a full quota of players having off seasons. But I have been shown that this is a superior young club. It is playing for great people. All we need is for our pitchers, headed by the brilliant Camilo Pascual, to stay healthy.

The Twins definitely figure to be there or thereabouts in 1964.

Jay Leaves Camp, Howard May Quit

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The National League has 473 pounds of personal problems today.

Actually, the problems belong to Cincinnati's Joey Jay and Frank Howard of the Los Angeles Dodgers, two of the league's biggest men at 228 and 245 pounds, respectively.

Jay, a major pitching flop last season, took his troubles home with him Thursday while Howard, whose power has made him one of baseball's most colorful characters, is preparing to bring his to the world champions' training camp. He still is at home, pondering the possibility of retirement.

When Jay left the Reds' Tampa, Fla., camp, he said he was going home to Cincinnati and planned to return late today. Manager Fred Hutchinson termed the departure unauthorized and indicated the trip would compound Jay's problems financially.

Involved in the 6-foot-4 righthander's difficulties apparently are a lease which expires on his home April 1 and his interests in an oil well business in Spencer, W.Va.

In exhibition games Thursday rookie John Boccabella's bases-loaded single in the 10th inning gave the Chicago Cubs a 4-3 triumph over San Francisco. It was the Giants' first defeat after four victories.

Joey Amalfitano cracked a solo home run in the sixth inning, carrying the Los Angeles Angels to a 2-1 victory against Boston.

Not Around

LEXINGTON, Ky. (NEA) — Get Around has been taken out of training and returned to the Lexington farm because of a filled ankle. He is Maine Chance Farm's top-ranked Citation colt.

Annual CYO Foul Shooting Contest Is Slated Saturday

The annual CYO foul shooting competition will be held Saturday at 10 a. m. at the George Washington School gym.

Competition will be in four classes: Small Fry—4th and 5th grade boys born since Sept. 1, 1952; Elementry-Tyro boys under 5 feet born since Sept. 1, 1949; Jayvee, boys under 5 feet 4 inches; and Varsity, boys over 5 feet 4 inches.

Competition will be allowed in only one class and all contestants must wear sneakers.

Each contestant will get 10 free throws and shall be eligible to try 15 additional shots if successful with 5 of the first 10. In case of ties, each tied contestant will throw 10 more shots until the winner is determined.

These contests were originally scheduled following a Mass and Communion breakfast in November but were cancelled because of the death of President Kennedy.

Unknowns Lead Golf Tournament

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—The St. Petersburg Open lived up to its reputation through the first round as the golf tournament of the longshots, the young and unknown.

Bob Harrison, the North Carolinian who plays out of Palm Desert, Calif., and Mike Krak, the ex-West Virginia University golf great who is a club pro at Oceanside, N.Y., shot five-under-par 67s Thursday.

PGA Meeting

The Board of Directors of the Northeastern New York PGA will meet Thursday, March 19, at the Shaker Ridge Country Club in Loudonville at 12 noon.

Al Kaline Turns To Pitching as Boon to His Arm

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Al Kaline, Detroit's No. 1 hitter, has turned to pitching.

It's the first step in a conditioning program aimed at strengthening a weak right arm and guaranteeing a quick getaway when the baseball season opens.

"When I was younger," said the 29-year-old outfielder after a workout at the Tigers' training base, "I never had any trouble. But in recent years I've been running into problems with my arm, and I've had to ease up on my swing. It's kept me from getting off to a good start.

"So, I've been working out just like a pitcher — throwing, catching, running."

Kaline, who challenged for the American League batting title last year and finished with a .312 average, also has been doing exercises on a roller-type system of equipment designed to build up his right knee.

"It's a Mantle-type thing," said Kaline, who agreed he could have suffered serious damage when he banged against a wall during a game at Los Angeles last July. Mantle broke his leg in a similar accident at Baltimore last season. Kaline pulled a ligament.

"It popped as I hit the wall," Kaline explained, "and for a while it was gimpy. Sometimes when I put a lot of pressure on it, it would buckle. I played on it for about 2½ months. Then I went into a nose dive, and by the last two weeks of the season, I had to sit on the bench."

The nose dive cost Kaline an opportunity to win the batting championship for the first time since 1955 when he was in his third year with the Tigers.

Bob Shelightner, Herb Petersen Rap 685 Series

Invitational Classic League bowlers racked up some impressive statistics last night at the Bowlerama. They compiled 16 series of "600" or better; a pair of 3000 sets game and series averages of 967 and 2902, respectively.

Bob Shelightner and Herb Peterens tied for individual scoring honors with 685. Shelightner had games of 215, 224, 246. Petersen stacked 211, 217 and 257. Ralph Longendyke furnished 677, as Petersen's Hurley Sand and Gravel squad rolled 3070.

Schoentag's Hotel shot 3042.

EMPLOYMENT

NOTICE TO JOB APPLICANTS
The Kingston Daily Freeman does not knowingly accept Help-Wanted advertisements from employers covered by the Federal Wage-Hour Law if they offer less than legal minimum wages. Most employes engaged in interstate or foreign commerce or in the production of goods for such commerce must be paid not less than $1.25 an hour and at least one and one-half times their regular rate of pay for hours worked after a maximum workweek of 40 hours, unless specifically exempt. Also, most employes in certain large retail, service, construction and other enterprises engaged in or producing goods for commerce, who have been entitled to a minimum wage of at least $1.00 an hour since September 3, 1961, must be paid overtime pay of not less than one and one-half times their regular rates for all hours worked after a maximum workweek of 44 hours, unless specifically exempt. If you are offered less by covered employers, or if you have questions concerning the Fair Labor Standards Act or other activities of the U. S. Department of Labor, call or write the Department's local office at 881 Gerard Ave., Bronx, N. Y 10452 WYandotte 2-1235

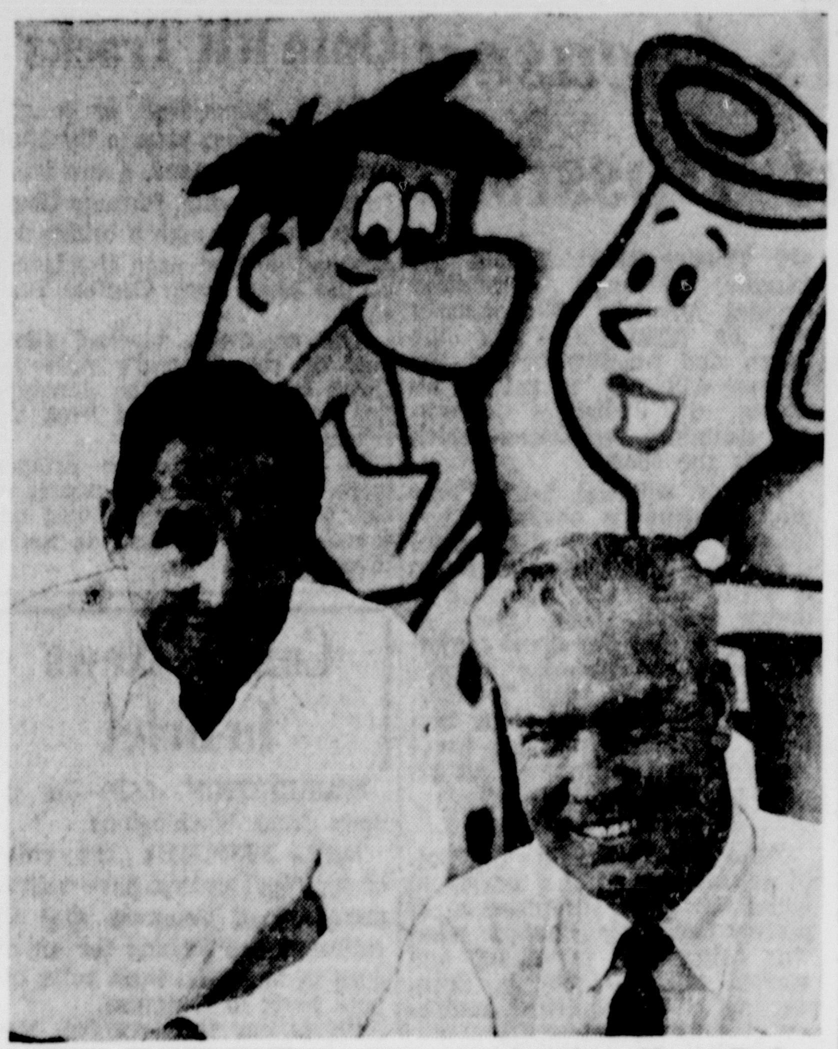
"THE FLINTSTONES"



"THE FLINTSTONES" comic strip, based on Hanna-Barbera Productions' popular half-hour animated TV series of the same name, debuts in The Freeman as a regular feature on Monday, March 16.

"THE FLINTSTONES" brough the impossible to television when it became the first weekly all-cartoon series to jump into the top ten in national ratings. It now is seen by over 40,000,000 people every week. Into a TV world dominated by cowboys, private eyes and neurotic villains came "THE FLINTSTONES," an animated family show as wholesome as a fresh apple.

Wilma and Fred Flintstone, along with their next-door neighbors, Betty and Barney Rubble, live in Bedrock, a suburb of Anywhere, U. S. A., but their environment is just a bit different. For instance, they drive cars with rock wheels, bet on dinosaur races and play Stoneway pianos.

The same good-natured, satirical humor that has made "THE FLINTSTONES" an overwhelming success on television has been incorporated into the new comic strip and page. It is true humor which appeals to every member of the family, with the charm of each character amusing the youngsters and the subtle satire of everyday situations, projected into the Stone Age, slanted to adult appreciation.

In the process of kidding both suburbia and the Stone Age, producers Bill Hanna and Joe Barbera have interwoven the comic with characters, props and dialogue that take off on rocks. It's amazing how much nonsense can be squeezed out of a stone when several light-headed cartoonists get to work on it..

For instance, Fred Flintstone, hero of the comic is a subscriber to the Daily Slate, a newspaper chiseled on a stone slab. His hi-fi set plays grooved discs of rock. The needle is a sharp-beaked bird that comments acidly on the music. When Fred and his wife Wilma travel, they stay at the Rockadero Tilton and meet movie stars like Gary Granite and Rock Pile.

"THE FLINTSTONES" is the brainchild of producers William Hanna and Joseph Barbera. Messrs. Hanna and Barbera are the creative talents who also produce the popular YOGI BEAR Sunday page.

Born in Melrose, New Mexico, Bill Hanna spent his school years studying engineering and journalism. After college, Hanna joined a firm in California as a structural engineer. But the battle to express himself finally overcame his engineering aspirations, and Bill Hanna joined Leon Schlessinger's cartoon company.

Joe Barbera was born in New York City and attended the American Institute of Banking. Upon graduation, Barbera went to work as an accountant for New York's Irving Trust Company. An inveterate doodler and dreamer, Barbera started submitting cartoons to the leading magazines and managed to sell one to Collier's. Encouraged by his first sale, Barbera kept at it and soon became a regular contributor to leading magazines. He then decided on a career of cartooning and joined Van Buren Associates as a sketch artist.

In 1937, both men joined MGM. Sparked with enthusiasm, Hanna and Barbera presented an idea for a new and different cartoon series to the MGM executives. The result: the birth of a world-famous cat and mouse, "Tom and Jerry," and the emergence of a bright new cartooning team, Bill Hanna and Joe Barbera. During their 20-year tenure at MGM, the team turned out over 125 adventures of "Tom and Jerry" and won seven Academy Awards for the studio.

There is no doubt that Bill Hanna and Joe Barbera feel that the only important consideration in producing THE FLINTSTONES and YOGI BEAR is that the best job is done. Above the desks of Bill Hanna and Joe Barbera there hangs a picture of Huckleberry Hound shaking hands with the two producers. The inscription reads, "Thank you, Huck" and is signed by the two producers.

Needs Senate Approval

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The House voted Thursday to abolish capital punishment in Kentucky, but its action still needs Senate approval.

The bill eliminates the death penalty in all statutes that provide it. It is expected to face rough going in the upper chamber.

New German Destroyer

BONN, Germany (AP) — The first destroyer built in West Germany since World War II goes into service March 23, the Defense Ministry announced Thursday. It is the 3,400-ton Hamburg, with a crew of 280.

Patients Die in Fire

CLEVELAND, Ga. (AP)— Four elderly patients died in an oil-fed fire that destroyed a rest home in this mountain resort Thursday.

The blaze began when the furnace of the two-story building exploded. Mrs. Dewey Autry, 62, a nurse, said the blast occurred as she passed near the furnace. She was saved from serious injury when a fellow employe ripped off her flaming uniform.

Mrs. Autry helped the home's owners, Mr. and Mrs. Silas Davis, and volunteers to remove patients from the building.

Ward Chairmen Listed for 1964 Red Cross Drive

A training session for canvassers making the house-to-house calls for the 1964 Red Cross fund drive was held Wednesday night in the City Hall Court Chambers.

Irving Maurer, county chairman, welcomed the group which represented each of the city's 13 wards. Frank Koenig, city chairman, also spoke and announced the names of the Kingston residents who will direct the drives in their respective wards.

The house-to-house campaign is scheduled to start next week. The city's Red Cross goal this year has been set for $5,530.

Second Ward — Minford A. Overfield; John E. Finch and William G. Wilt, section 1; Mrs. Emmett Aldrich and Mrs. Thomas DiMiccio, section 2 and Eugene A. Knapp, section 3.

Third Ward — John Naccarato and Mrs. Melania Madison.

Fourth Ward — Donald P. Tucker.

Sixth Ward — Mrs. Leonard Van Dyke.

Seventh Ward — Frank C. Sass.

Ninth Ward — T. Robert Gallo.

10th Ward — Donald Quick.
11th Ward — Frank Stauble.
12th Ward — John Machione.
13th Ward — George McArdle Jr.

Chairmen for the Fifth and Eighth Wards will be announced.

Highlighting the session was the showing of the film, Down to Earth. The film portrayed the work of the American Red Cross throughout the world, including help in disaster areas; aid to displaced persons and political refugees and services rendered to the armed forces both physically and with personal problems.

Maurer said, "The training program was very successful in that it provided an opportunity for the campaign leaders to familiarize themselves with the campaign objectives and Red Cross policies and philosophies."

County Kickoff Set March 31

Henze, Klein Are Named To Cancer Crusade Posts

Lawrence A. Quilty, chairman of the American Cancer Society's 1964 Crusade in Ulster County, has appointed Clifford A. Henze, executive vice-president and treasurer of Kingston Savings Bank, chairman of the Bank division and Aaron E. Klein, attorney, co-chairman of the city committee.

The 1964 Crusade is conducted by the ACS to raise funds to save more lieves through research, education and service.

Drive Opens April 1

A kick-off meeting is scheduled for March 31, 8 p. m. at the Governor Clinton Hotel, when Chairman Quilty and other leaders of this year's Crusade in Ulster County will explain final details for the campaign which will be launched on Wednesday April 1.

"We need volunteers and we must saturate the communities of this county with life-saving information if we are to do the job we are called upon to do," Chairman Quilty said. "Because of the importance of the job to the welfare of the communities in Ulster County, I am sure the people will respond with enthusiasm out of a sense of duty and compassion for peoples' lives."

The county chairman said that the American Cancer Society explains that it is now possible to save one of two of those who develop cancer, but only one out of three is actually being saved. "This means," he said, "some 90,000 persons will die of cancer this year simply because they did not get to their doctor in time for early diagnosis and prompt treatment."

Quilty added, "the society's No. 1 goal in the April Crusade will be saving those lives that are lost unnecessarily and that means getting everyone to a doctor in time for early detection and prompt treatment."

Checkup Best Protection

"One's best protection against death from cancer," the county chairman said, "is an annual health checkup. The annual checkup should be observed as regularly as a birthday. The second goal will be to raise money for research, education and service." The hope of saving half of those who develop cancer rests in research, and with the growing number of scientists involved in it."

Volunteers who would like to serve may contact the county chairman or the local American Cancer Society headquarters, 400 Broadway, Kingston.

Augustus S. Brinnier, partner of the engineering firm of Brinnier and Larios, is vice chairman of the county's 1964 Crusade committee. Joseph H. McCann Jr., Kingston, council at the IBM Kingston, is chairman of the Industrial division.

James J. Rua is campaign treasurer. Mrs. Arthur Freeman is volunteer director for the Ulster County unit and Mrs. Paul J. Wendrow is executive secretary.

The 1964 Crusade will be conducted during April, and the public is urged to contribute generously to make this year's worthy financial drive a success.

Hootenanny for $10,000

SANTA MARIA, Calif. (AP)— Students from Alan Hancock College, Cal Poly State College at San Luis Obispo and the University of California at Santa Barbara vow to keep a hootenanny going for 120 hours to raise $10,000 for Sisters Hospital in Santa Maria.

And, they say, if they raise the money before the 120 hours are up, they'll extend the singing to 240 hours in celebration.

A hootenanny incidently, isn't the offspring of a goat-owl marriage. It's a folk singing party.

Woman Stabbed to Death

NEW YORK (AP) — A 28-year-old woman was stabbed to death today in the lobby of an apartment house in Kew Gardens, Queens.

Police said they had no clues as to the slayer.

Carl Ross, an occupant of the house where the killing occurred heard screams in the lobby at 3:40 a.m. and went there and found the body, police said.

Rocky Won't Be In Texas Primary

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York said today he has decided against entering the Texas Republican primary May 2.

The New York governor, campaigning in the June 2 California primary said he had notified the Republican State Committee in Texas that his schedule through mid-June "already has developed in such a way that I could not possibly devote an adequate amount of time to active campaigning and discussing the issues with the people in your state."

Names In The News

Tiring of Beatles

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Beatles apparently are wearing a little thin with some fellow Britons.

Radio station WQAM of Miami reports it received a letter from four British seamen stationed in the Bahamas asking that the station not play so much of that "Limey" music by the Beatles.

RFK Lauds Brother

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy says his brother, the late President John F. Kennedy, "gave us all more confidence in the country" and gave foreigners great confidence in American leadership.

"He made Americans feel young again," said the attorney general, who was a guest Thursday night on Jack Paar's NBC television show. The show was taped for tonight's showing.

Plans Florida Sojourn

State Sen. John M. Spottswood said Truman is to arrive in Key West Saturday for a two or three week stay. Truman spent 12 vacations at Key West when he was president.

Untouched Till Now

LOS ANGELES (AP)—When Abel Fernandez was a member of television's intrepid crime fighters, "The Untouchables," he helped catch tax evaders.

Thursday, the 34-year-old actor pleaded guilty in Los Angeles to failing to pay state income taxes on $15,659 in 1961. Sentencing was set for April 2.

Would Arm Negroes

NEW YORK (AP)—Malcolm X, 'the Negro nationalist leader who is a caustic critic of nonviolent protests, says "it is criminal to teach a man not to defend himself while under attack.

He told a news conference in New York Thursday that Negroes should own shotguns and form rifle clubs "to defend ourselves in times of emergency."

Barry and Rocky Prospecting for California Votes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater joins Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller today in prospecting for political gold in California. Both have staked out the same claim — the city of Fresno.

The two rivals for the Republican presidential nomination, trying to round up support for California's June 2 primary which Goldwater calls "The big one," have speeches and public appearances lined up in the central California city.

Saturday, the New York governor and the Arizona senator will address the California Republican Assembly Convention, a volunteer organization. Another speaker will be Harold Stassen, former Minnesota governor who has also entered the GOP presidential race.

There were rumbles of irritation in the Rockefeller camp that Texas Republican leaders were trying to set up a Goldwater victory — at the governor's expense—in the Lone Star State's May 2 presidential preference contest.

Reach Panama Formula

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Panama reportedly have reached agreement on a formula for opening negotiations on their differences over the Panama Canal.

The formula also will provide for renewed diplomatic relations between the two countries, it was learned Thursday night.

Informed diplomats said the only problem delaying an announcement was a minor difference over the wording in statements to be made by President Johnson and Panama President Roberto Chiari.

Trib's Turn for Salvo

Mahoney Is Accused Of Arrant Bossism

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Herald Tribune, commenting on an attack on it by State Sen. Walter J. Mahoney, the Republican majority leader, said in an editorial today that "when a hit legislator complains there is plenty of reason to wonder why."

The editorial also accused Mahoney of "an arrant piece of bossism" on legislative ethics.

Speech Blasted Paper

Mahoney blasted the newspaper in a speech in the Senate Thursday for printing a story that said 10 powerful state senators — including Mahoney —"hold a financial club over the heads of the 12 judges of the state Court of Claims."

The story, which raised the issue of legislators' ethics, said the 10 senators or their law firms handle many cases in the Court of Claims. It said six of the 10 are on both the finance and judiciary committees and the other four are on one or other of the committees. The story said the two committees hold strong reins on the court.

Today's editorial in the newspaper, which lists itself as Independent-Republican, said Mahoney denounced it "for publishing the uncontradicted fact that large numbers of lawyer-legislators practice before the State Court of Claims for substantial profit."

The court handles suits against the state for property condemnation, for negligence and for breach of contract.

Sees Try as Martyr

The story in Thursday's Herald Tribune said: "While the (Senate) Finance Committee decides just how much money will be appropriated for the court, and whether or not the judges will get a salary increase, the Judiciary Committee examines legislation which affects the court."

Today's editorial said, "Senator Mahoney is obviously trying to appear as a martyr for the entire Legislature, to make it seem that every member is under attack. The fact, of course, is that the great majority know and practice a good brand of ethics. And for Mr. Mahoney to proclaim flatly that Court of Claims practice won't be prohibited is in itself an arrant piece of bossism.

Didn't Invent Stories

"The Herald Tribune did not, of course, invent the stories to which it gave prominence. It merely took a close look at what was being done in Albany and started talking about it. Soon, we had a distinguished company of fellow inquirers."

The editorial noted that a special legislative committee on ethics has said there should be a ban on such practices as lawyer - legislators handling cases before the state Court of Claims.

The State Senate and Assembly have codes of ethics, and there have been suggestions that they be made more strict. The new ethics committee was appointed last October by Mahoney and Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino, Long Beach Republican.

Mahoney has said the Senate will not approve the recent committee's recommendation that lawyer - legislators be barred from practicing before the State Court of Claims because of possible conflict of interest.

Strangled in Play

STILLWATER, Minn. (AP) — Her pet dog was blamed Thursday for the strangulation death of Victoria Aronson, 6.

The girl, with a scarf about her neck, was playing with her Labrador. Investigators said the dog playfully grabbed the end of the scarf between his teeth and dragged the girl about 70 feet through snow. The child was strangled by the scarf.

Fire Truck Drops Onto RR Tracks

While responding to a call that a body was seen in the Hudson River Thursday, a fire truck from Cold Spring, Putnam County, crashed through a bridge and dropped 20 feet onto the tracks of the New York Central Railroad.

The apparatus blocked about half of the Central's rails for three hours until the damaged fire truck was cleared from the tracks.

It was reported no firemen were injured and the report of the body in the river was unfounded. The accident is under investigation.

Capitol News In Brief

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

RAIL DISPUTE: The chiefs of four rail unions have written members of Congress that the railroads are looking for an excuse to force the work rules dispute back to Congress.

The operating unions are attempting to bypass the stalled national negotiations through offers to deal with individual railroads.

Wages and working conditions are involved in these negotiations which Congress left to the parties to settle themselves when it passed emergency legislation last August to avert a nationwide strike.

The unions are appealing to the Supreme Court the arbitration ruling providing for the eventual elimination of some 30,000 firemen's jobs.

For about two weeks the railroads have been legally free to start laying off firemen and to impose other changes involved in the stalled negotiations. But they have not.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said Thursday that he had heard of no plans for an Easter trip back to Texas this year.

Also, Mrs. Johnson and daughters Luci and Lynda have promised to be on hand for the Easter egg roll on the White House grounds the day after Easter.

Showdown Session Looms

HARRISBURG (AP) — The possibility of last minute revisions to Gov. William W. Scranton's unemployment compensation program threatened today to send the Senate into a special Saturday session for a final showdown.

Senate Republicans indicated Thursday that at least two and possibly more amendments were under consideration.

"I'd like to have action on the bill today but we will not have a midnight session and there is a possibility that the bill will go over on final passage until Saturday," declared Senate Majority Leader James S. Berger, R-Potter.
